MAINE SHOWS SHARP GAINS BY DEMOCRATS

Returns So Far Received Not Very Comforting to the Republicans.

G. O. P. PLURALITY LESS THAN IN 1900

Democrats Seem To Have Gained About 30 Per Cent, While the Republicans Have Gained Only About 15 Per Cent.

Portland, Me., September 12.—The republicans today carried the state for William T. Cobb, of Rockland, the candidate for governor, by a plurality of about 30,000 over Cyrus W. Davis, of Waterville, his democratic opponent.

Complete returns will not be received for several days, but 300 out of 522 cities, towns and plantations give Cobb 59,705; Davis, 38,399. The same places in 1900 gave Hill, republican, 51,707; Lord, democrat, 29,302. These returns show a republican gain of about 15 per cent and a democratic gain of about 31 per cent over 1900. The vote for governor will probably be the largest since 1888.

In the first and second congressional districts the returns indicate the election of Amos Tallen and Charles E. Littlefield by about the same plurality as four years ago. In the third district E. C. Burleigh ran ahead of his vote of four years ago.

At a late hour tonight very few reports had been received from the fourth district, where the reelection of Llewellyn Powers is conceded.

Early returns show that the democrats have probably made slight gains in both branches of the legislature, but that the body will remain strongly republican and will probably reelect United States Senator Eugene Hale.

The vote was the heaviest cast since 1888.

The election passed under conditions favorable for a large vote. The weather, dull and threatening early in the day, became clear and inviting before noon, and the voters, whose enthusiasm had been thoroughly aroused during the brief campaign, not only by local speakers, but by orators of national reputation from outside the state, flocked to the polls.

While the various county contests were bitter and hard-fought, general interest was fixed on the probable plurality for Mr. Cobb, the republican candidate, the democrats aiming to reduce it below the 33,000 of 1900, and the republicans determined to prevent a falling off. To these ends the leaders put forth every effort, especially in the cities and large towns.

At 11 o'clock tonight Governor John F. Hill sent telegrams to President Roosevelt and Chairman Cortelyou, of the republican national committee, claiming the state by 30,000, the four congressmen by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 10,000, every member of the state senate and five-sixths of the house.

Many of the contests for sheriff were bitterly fought. In Portland, the city in which the enforcement of the prohibition law has always been a subject of discussion, the present democratic sheriff, William F. Penell, was reelected by a plurality of 1,900.

Both candidates were successful in their own cities, Mr. Cobb carrying Rockland by357; Mayor Cyrus W. Davis, the democratic candidate, winning his own city by 38 votes. Lewiston also went for Davis by 576, which was the largest single gain made by the democrats in the early returns.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS CONFER.

Davis, Gorman, Jones and Others in New York.

New York, September 12.—There was a conference of national leaders at the national democratic headquarters which lasted during the greater part of the day. Among those present were Henry G. Davis, the vice presidential candidate; national Chairman Taggart, August Belmont, William F. Sheehan, James K. Jones, of Arkansas, the national chairman of four years ago; Daniel J. Campau, of Michigan; James M. Hogg, of Texas; John G. Carlisle, Thomas F. Ryan and National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Jones arrived during the day from Washington and had a long conference with Chairman Taggart. Mr. Carlisle also talked privately with Mr. Taggart.

Mr. Taggart will go west on Wednesday, it was said, and will be away from national headquarters about a week.

Senator Gorman, of Maryland, arrived late tonight and he and Senator Davis went into conference, after each had announced that nothing concerning the questions to be discussed by them would b epublic.

HIS THROAT CUT IN COURT ROOM

Carter's Wound May Cost Him His Life.

McDonald Warned Him Not to Swear to Certain Things—While Carter Was on Witness Stand McDonald Attacked Him.

Valdosta, Ga., September 12.—(Special.) Information was received here of a deadly fight at a justices court in the Hahira district, of this county, Saturday. It appears that W. I. Carter and Tim McDonald, citizens of the district, have been on bad terms for some time, and during the trial of a case yesterday, in which the former was interested against the latter, McDonald warned Carter not to swear to certain things, threatening bodily injury. Carter went on the witness stand and gave his testimony, whereupon McDonald is said to have sprang on him with an open knife, cutting his throat.

Carter is said to be severely injured and may die from the wound.

BLOOD FOLLOWS GIRL'S LECTURE

Miss Abbett at Cincinnati Reflected on North Carolina.

When She Returned to North State, A Riot Ensued Between Her Friends and Enemies and Several Persons Were Shot.

Hickory, N. C., September 12.—A bloody affair took place near Hudson, in Caldwell county, about fifteen miles from here, yesterday, and as a result one man lies mortally wounded and two others are suffering from injuries more or less serious.

The origin of the trouble was the published account of Miss Abbott's lecture in Cincinnati, reflecting upon the people of Hudson and vicinity, where she has been conducting a mission school. She met a warm reception upon her return this fall and threats to drive her out were freely indulged in.

J. F. Bollinger, at whose house she boarded, took her part. He summoned reinforcements from Hickory and yesterday a party of flive left here in a surrey for Bollinger's home.

During the afternoon a general fight occurred between a dozen men led by one Lingle and Bollinger's party, in which the latter got the worst of it. John Martin, a brick mason who lives at East Hickory, was shot between the shoulders, the bullet lodging in his backbone. J. F. Bollinger and John Bollinger were also wounded, the former severely, the latter slightly. The lower part of Martin's body is paralyzed and his chances for recovery are slight.

Bollinger's party claims that they were fired on without warning. The Lingles say that Bollinger's crowd began the attack and that Martin fell, shot by his own men, before the Lingles opened fire. It is difficult to learn the truth. No information has been received as to the casualties in the Lingle party.

Firemen Expel the Monks.

Paris, September 12.—The government authorities forcibly expelled the Barnabite community from their establishment here today. A large force of municipal guards and firemen executed the expulsion. The doors and windows were barricaded and the firemen scaled the walls, entered the windows and expelled the monks and a number of their sympathizers, including the Marquis de Fougere.

Rome, September 12.—The pope today received in private audience Archbishop Chappelle, of New Orleans, apostolic delegate for Cuba and Porto Rico.

BLACKS DRIVEN FROM INDIANA

Mob Spirit Is Rampant in the Hoosier State.

Because Negro Wounded a Constable At Carlisle the Whites Rose and Are Forcing the Negroes To Leave the Town.

Carlisle, Ind., September 12.—Jasper Hammond, colored, while resisting arrest this afternoon, was shot and seriously wounded by Constable T. E. Johnson. Hammond was trying to renew a quarrel with other negroes. Tonight a mob gathered and drove all the non-resident negroes out of twon. Race feeling is intense and it is feared that negroes having homes here will be compelled to leave. Hammond was taken to the Sullivan jail for safe-keeping when threats of lynching were heard.

The mob tnogiht visited the home of every negro family. Exery house except one occupied by an old family was deserted. These people were not molested, but doors and windows in the other houses were demolished. No further trouble is expected unless the negro laborers make an effort to return to Carlisle tomorrow.

The second section of westbound train No. 5, while running at a speed of 35 miles an hour, crashed into the third section of eastbound train No. 6, carrying a large party of returning Knigths Templars. Each train was a doubleheader with a heavy train of Pullmans and day coaches. All of the four engines are a complete wreck, as well as the baggage and day coaches of both trains.

Jackson, Miss., September 12.—Governor Vardaman and his staff in uniform, together with a large number of invited guests, left this afternoon in three special Pullmans, attached to the Illinois Central vestibule, for St. Louis, where they go to participate in the ceremonies when the Mississippi state building, known as the Beauvoir, will be dedicated.

CROWS AND DOGS ON BATTLEFIELD

Ghastly Sights Reported by Correspondents at Liao-Yang

Crematory Fires Are Burning the Japanese Dead and Hundreds of Russians Being Buried—Sickening Odors Are Born on Every Breeze.

General Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, Near Liao-Yang, September 12.—The battle of Liao-Yang was a magnificent victory of which the Japanese have great reasons to be proud, although they were unable to realize their hopes of another Sedan.

The execution of a campaign by the Japanese upon such a vast scale against an army probably their superior in numbers and possessing more modern guns of greater calibre and range than their own and established behind fortifications of great completeness and unprecedented extent and directed by skillful commanders, excites the highest admiration of the military critics.

The foreign military observers with the Japanese army find convincing evidence that General Kuropatkin planned to defeat the Japanese armies in detail and then to dispatch a powerful column to the south for the relief of Port Arthur, and they are of the opinion that with the thirteen divisions at his command, General Kuropatkin could have accomplished this had the quality of his officers and soldiers equaled that of the Japanese.

The work done by the Russians in preparing the neighborhood of Liao-Yang to be a theater of battle is of incredible magnitude. In addition to the extensive fortifications on the south side of the Taitse river there were practically three lines of defenses for the protection of eastern approaches of the railroad, which in themselves, constituted a formidable batle arena.

The area north of the river, which was fought over by the contending armies, presents a terrible picture of the results of war. The fields are strewn with lines of trenches marking the successive stages of retreat and crematory fires are yet burning and searching parties are bringing in Japanese bodies. Graves of Russian soldiers can be seen at every turn, some dug by comrades and others by the Japanese. On one hillside is a group of two or three hundred graves marked by rough sticks.

Many bodies remained undiscovered in the high grain, and the odor of decomposition fills the air.

Flocks of crows hover about and hundreds of Chinese dogs roam the fields

STRONG PROTEST MADE AGAINST THE PRESENCE OF WARSHIP AT FRISCO

GEN. KUROPATKIN TO BE RECALLED

St. Petersburg Also Hears That Alexieff Has Resigned.

But Not Much Credence is Attached to the Rumors—Sanguinary Side of the War Not Now in Evidence—Japs May be Laying a Trap.

The sanguinary side of the Russo-Japanese conflict is not nok in evidence and with the practical suspension of news from the front the interest for the time being centers in rumors—that Viceroy Alexieff has resigned, as reported Sunday; that General Kuropatkin is to be replaced by Lieutenant General Linevitch, now in command of the forces at Vladivostok, and other statements which cannot be traced to authentic sources, but all of which, if true, would have a most important bearing on the situation.

One Russian correspondent points out that when the Japanese withdraw from the Russian front it is usually the precursor of their appearance on the flanks, and he thinks the indications point to a winter campaign. Interest again turns to Port Arthur and to the effect which the Russian defeat at Liao-Yang is likely to have on the garrison there, and the fear is expressed that the siege will soon end in disaster for Russians.

KUROPATKIN AND ALIEXIFF MAY BE RECALLED BY CZAR

St. Petersburg, September 13.—2 a. m.—With the lull in military operations and an almost entirely suspension of dispatches from the front, St. Petersburg has again fallen back upon rumors. Countless stories are afloat regarding the Russian defeat at Liao-Yang, some of which are absolutely absurd while others have apparently enough basis in fact to give them a color of possibility.

Of first importance is the revival of the rumor of Viceroy Alexieff's resignation, based probably upon differences said to exist between him and General Kuropatkin and others in authority in the Far East.

Of next importance is the rumor that General Kuropatkin is to be superseded. Lieutenant General Linevitch being named as the most probable successor. This is supposed to rest upon the emperor's displeasure with Kuropatkin's generalship at Liao-Yang and general dissatisfaction with the course of events at the front.

Neither Alexieff's nor Kuropatkin's friends seem to attach great importance to the stories involving them.

GEN. SASSALITCH AND MANY REPORTED TO BE CAPTURED

London, September 12.—The Morning Post states that official Russian dispatches received in London announce that General Sassalitch, who commanded the portion of the Russian rear guard south of the Hun river has been severely wounded and captured, with 3,000 out ot his 5,000 men.

Roosevelt's Running Mate Talks to Commercial Travelers.

New York, September 12.—Senator C. W. Fairbanks, the republican nominee for vice president, made his first campaign speech in New York city today at a mass meeting under the auspices of the Roosevelt and Fairbanks' Travelers' League. He said:

"The people of New York are thinking in this campaign and I want to say right here that they are thinking right. You never had a better opportunity in your life than when you work for the cause of republicanism. We stand for the inflexible maintenance of the gold standard, and we are favoring sustaining an economic standard that has brought prosperity to the country. I sincerely hope that yours will be a favorable verdict at the ballot box."

SUGAR ROAD IS IN TROUBLE.

Receiver Has Been Named for Louisiana Enterprise.

New Orleans, September 12.—United States Judge Shelby has signed a decree appointing J. M. Dresser, of New Orleans, receiver for the Louisiana Sugar Railroad Company, organized here to build a 70-mile rail line from Thibodeaux, La., to Grand Isle. The company has 13 miles of track made from Thibodeaux south, but is unable to proceed further owing to the lack of funds. It is said to be utterly insolvent. Rights of way, surveys, etc., for valuable branch lines, into the sugar country constitute the assets. William H. Junk, of Dickson, Fla., made the application for the receiver.

A receiver has also been appointed for the Greenlaw Lumber Company, Limited, of St. Tammany parish. The Interstate Bank and Trust Company is the receiver in this case. Liabilities of over $150,000 are alleged as the result of improvident loans.

Great Negro Baptist Convention.

Austin, Texas, September 12.—The National Colored Baptist Convention will assemble Wednesday. It is expected that there will be several thousand negro delegates in attendance upon the meeting. It is announced that this will be the largest gathering of negroes ever held in the south.

Japanese Consul Urges That United States Force Lena to Put to Sea in 24 Hours.

WASHINGTON STIRRED BY ARRIVAL OF CRUISER

Officials Admit That Presence of the Russian Cruiser Creates a Disagreeable Situation—U. S. Determined to Enforce Neutrality.

Washington, September [illegible] pected protest of Japan a[illegible] ing the Russian auxiliary [illegible] which arrived at San Fra[illegible] day, to remain longer th[illegible] came today when the Ja[illegible] in that city, through th[illegible] customs, made formal dem[illegible] vessel be required to leav[illegible] of that time.

The collector's telegram [illegible] tifying the adthorities of t[illegible] the Lena and of Japan's [illegible] addressed to the secretary [illegible] ury, who at once sent co[illegible] to Acting Secretary of State Addee and Acting Secretary Murray, of the department of commerce and labor, who has direct jurisdiction in the matter.

Protest of Japan.

The telegram reads as follows:

"Japanese consul has made demand upon me that Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena, arriving at this port 11th instant, leave within 24 hours. The captain reports that he had entered for repairs of engines and boilers, principally the latter.

"I am requesting the inspector of hulls and boilers to make an examination of vessels' machinery with the consent of the Russian consul and commander of the Lena. Can find no authority in the law or regulations for the collector assuming any authority in the premises and request instructions."

After a conference with the commissioner of navigation, Acting Secretary Murray sent the following dispatch to the collector:

"Your telegram addressed to the secretary of the treasury concerning Russian steamship Lena received at 4:40 p. m. You should have addressed this department as directed in circular 29.

"Wire this department hour of steamer's arrival at your port and concise resume of steamboat inspector's report, and if repairs are necessary the probable time required to complete them. On receipt of particulars the department will instruct you further. See circular 29 end of page 2 and all of page 3.

The Circular Referred To.

The circular referred to was issued on February 13, of the present year, immediately after hostilities between Russia and Japan commenced, and besides containing the president's proclamation and the provisions of the statutes relating to neutrality, it gave instructions to collectors that "should any case arise requiring offical action, you will communicate the facts to the department by telegraph."

The collector's telegram came after office hours, and the officials were somewhat puzzled that there should have been so much delay in sending it. There was a good deal of reticence on the subject on the part of the officials of the department of commerce and labor and of the bureau of navigation, who preferred to await the report of the steamboat inspector before making any statement. This report, it is expected, will be received some time during the night, so that the Lena will have been in port over twenty-four hours before the question of her right to tie up for repairs is determined.

Russian Ship Needs Repairs.

San Francisco, September 12.—The Russian transport Lena, which unexpectedly arrived in port yesterday from Vladivostok, remains at anchor off the Union Iron Works. Her commander stated that her boilers are in need of repairs and that some time must elapse before she will be in condition to go to sea. As yet, nothing has been done towards placing her in dry dock and no intention has been disclosed regarding her future movements.

Rear Admiral Goodrich lunched with Captain Berlinsky and other officers of the Lena on board the vessel. They could not be seen. Lieutenant Zotoff, speaking for the captain, stated that the main object of the Russian vessel in making this port was to have absolutely necessary repairs made to her engines and boilers. Her bottom is foul and will have to be cleaned in dry dock. The lieutenant said that the Lena's coal bunkers were far from being depleted, and he thought it would be unnecessary for her to coal at this port.

The United States inspectors of hulls and boilers have been ordered to make a thorough examination of the Lena, and on their report will largely depend the duration of the stay of the vessel in this bay.

If it is decided that repairs are necessary, they will be made as rapidly as possible.

Collector of the Port Stratton has not received any definite instructions from Washington, but has wired a full statement of the situation and an answer is soon expected.

In the meantime the collector, in view of the fact that the repairs are said to be imperative, has refused to order the Lena from the harbor within 24 hours without a full investigation.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

Being asked how long he would remain here, Officer Speckneff said:

"We expect orders from our naval representative at Washington, who has just been advised of our arrival. It is probable that he will ask the American government for its permission to remove the guns from our decks and allow the vessel to remain here until repairs can be finished."

When asked how long he thought that would require, he said:

"The Lena will probably remain here until the war is over. We expect that the officers and crew will be sent home by way of New York."

At the conclusion of the conference between Collector Stratton and the Japanese consul, Collector Stratton gave out a statement, in which he said:

"I have decided not to allow the Japanese to go aboard the Lena to make an examination. This matter is between the United States and the Russian government, and the United States will attend to it without asking assistance from anybody. I know the law and will enforce it. The neutrality of the United States will be maintained without regard to any request or act of the Japanese consul."

Southern Cotton Shippers Afraid.

Fort Worth, Tex., September 12.—The presence of a Rusisan warship at San Francisco has caused cotton shippers here to take out war risks. Much cotton is shipped from Texas to Japan. Risks are from 10 cents to 15 cents a bale.

Mobile, Ala., September 12.—According to Superintendent Henry Bolling, of the Mobile cotton exchange, the action of the Texas cotton shippers in taking out extra insurance because of the presence of a Russian warship in American waters will not affect Mobile shippers. Superintendent Bolling construes a decision of some months ago to mean that cotton is not contraband, and that, therefore, cotton consigned to Japan will not be in danger.

Nervo-Spinal Diseases.

I have recently perfected a system for the cure of the more serious nervous, spinal and muscular diseases. My treatment has been tested in public hospitals and sanitariums with gratifying success. It is a humane, simple method with none of the old notions of branding, hanging by the wrists and so forth, which were so much in vogue. My system will be of permanent benefit to sufferers from epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, twitching of the body or the skin, inability to move the muscles for walking, etc. Please take this announcement as an invitation to call on me for examination. It will give me an opportunity to explain my system to you and to show you by actual demonstration that I am able to control these diseases. I make no charge whatever for examination or chat, so kindly call soon. I also invite physicians to send their serious cases to me. Gratifying results also have been obtained by persons who used this system in their own homes, far away from me, but under my direction. I only advise this when the patient is unable to visit me in person. If sufferers will write me I will be glad to enter into a correspondence with them and advise them free of charge what to do. The treatment is effective no matter what the cause of the disease is, whether hereditary or acquired through another disease. But I can explain all this better to you in person or by letter, so call on me or write me. My address is J. Newton Hathaway, M. D., 33 Inman Bldg., 22½ S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. POSSE CHASING CRUEL FATHER

Heinous Crimes Charged Against Williams, of Haralson County.

Alleged That He Ruined His Daughter and Then Killed Her—Williams Had Been Pardoned for Kidnaping a Young Girl.

Buchanan, Ga., September 12—(Special.) Quite a sensation has been caused in the eastern portion of this county by the death of Ella Williams under suspicious circumstances. She was stricken with convulsions some two weeks ago and when a physician was called in he pronounced the trouble brain fever. She continued to have convulsions and to grow worse until some three or four days ago when she died.

Neighbors who came to assist in the preparation of the body for burial noticed that her father, Kirk Williams, was unusually cruel to his family and especially to his wife, objecting to her manifesting any grief at the death of the daughter. Saturday Williams took his wife to the grave of the daughter and soon as they had left home the children ran to the neighbors and begged that their father be prevented from killing their mother, saying that he intended doing so before returning from the grave yard. Some of the neighbors started in the direction of the grave yard when they met Williams and his wife returning.

Soon after passing the residence of R. F. Sanford the woman was heard to scream for help, and Mr. Sanford and O. F. Goldin, who happened to be at the home of Mr. Sanford, went to her assistance and protected her from her husband. She was sent back a short distance to the Sanford residence, where she told of intimate relations that Williams had been having with Ella, the deceased daughter, for a number of years, and since she was about thirteen years old. She further told of Williams hitting this daughter on the head with a rock some three or four weeks ago, and that she had the first convulsion the day following.

Williams has fled and citizens have sworn out warrants for him for incest, assault with intent to murder and murder, and a posse is in hot pursuit.

Williams was convicted in the superior court of this county some three years ago of kidnaping the daughter of Posey Norton and carrying her with this daughter, Ella, to Alabama, where he was found living with them near Gadsden. He was sentenced by Judge Janes to four years in the penitentiary.

About one year ago, after Williams had served about half his time, he returned here with a pardon.

It was thought here by citizens at the time of Williams' pardon that the prison board certainly did not have the record in the kidnaping case when the pardon was granted.

DR. CHAPMAN WILL COME.

Well Known Divine Will Conduct an Evangelical Campaign in Atlanta in October.

It is now certain that Dr. Chapman will come to Atlanta and conduct an evangelical campaign in this city during the month of October.

At an enthusiastic meeting of pastors and business men of Atlanta held last night at the Carnegie library, an address was delivered by Rev. Arthur J. Smith, personal representative of Dr. Chapman, in which he stated that he would wire Dr. Chapman to come to Atlanta.

One third of the amount necessary for conducting the campaign was raised at the meeting last night. The city will be divided into districts, nine or ten in number, and the work in each district will be conducted by men sent to Atlanta by Dr. Chapman.

HE BLEW UP HIS OWN SHOP.

That Charge Is Made Against a New York Barber.

New York, September 12.—Pelligrini Stavalli, the Italian barber whose shop was wrecked by an explosion early today, endangering the lives of twenty families who occupied the tenements in the building, has been placed under arrest on suspicion of having caused the explosion. Stavalli claims that the explosion was caused by members of the Black Hand Society, and at the police station he showed two letters, signed with the mystic symbol threatening him with serious things unless he sent $500 to the writers.

TO SWEAR JUDGE OFF BENCH.

Affidavit Made Against Benton by James Hargis.

Winchester, Ky., September 12.—Judge James Hargis, of the circuit court, today filed an affidavit to swear Judge Benton off the bench in the hearing of the damage litigation of Mrs. James B. Marcum against Alexander and James Hargis, Fulton French and former Sheriff Edward Callahan for $100,000 damages on the charge of alleged conspiracy to murder Marcum, who was shot to death at Jackson. The affidavit alleges political dissension between Judge Benton and Hargis. Judge Benton refused to vacate.

Wouldn't Stand for Reduction.

Sharon, Pa., September 12.—Preparations have been going on for several days to get the wire, wire nail and blooming mills of the American steel and wire works in shape for starting today. When the men reported today the wire dealers were notified of a 20 per cent reduction. They struck. None of the other departments were arrested as a consequence.

Macon, Ga., September 12.—(Special.) Wesleyan Female College will throw open its doors to the girls of Georgia and her sister states Wednesday morning. Everything is in readiness for a big opening, and President Guerry thinks there will be at least 400 young ladies in attendance during the next term. Several addresses will be made at the opening Wednesday morning, and what is predicted for the most successful year in the history of the institution will be started off with appropriate exercises.

Macon was pleasantly reminded today that there is a college for girls north of the Central City. Monroe Female College will open tomorrow, and all the trains into Macon today from south Georgia were filled with girls on their way to that institution of learning.

Alderman Jones Receives Threat.

Macon, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—In an anonymous letter to Alderman Ben L. Jones some one, over the signature, "Taxpayer," warns the alderman from the third that unless he retreats in his campaign against the gamblers of Macon something of an explosive character is liable to happen. It is said that Alderman Jones receives many such epistles, usually written in a scrawling hand. Though his life has been threatened in several of these letters Alderman Jones has not taken the matter seriously enough to report it to the police.

They Meet in Macon Today.

Macon, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—Tomorrow morning the state council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will convene at Conductors' hall, 408 Poplar street, in their twelfth annual session, and for three days they will hold their deliberations.

Macon, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—That which will perhaps be of much interest in Atlanta business circles is the fact that R. S. Patillo, second vice president of the Georgia Cotton Oil Company, has been elected vice president of that company, also of the Alabama Cotton Oil Company, to succeed W. J. Montgomery, deceased. On account of his promotion Mr. Patillo's office will now be in Atlanta.

LEADERS WORK IN HARMONY.

Shehan Denies That He and Taggart Are at Outs.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 12.—The following letter was received at the state democratic headquarters today:

"Democratic National Committee, New York, September 19.—Hon. William O'Brien, Chairman Democratic State Committee, Indianapolis, Ind. My Dear Sir: I have received your letter of the 5th instant, referring to the persistent effort of the republican press to create the impression that a lack of harmony exists between Mr. Taggart and the executive committee, of which I am chairman. While these reports have not escaped my attention, I have not deemed it necessary to contradict them, or to notice them in any way. They are absolutely without foundation, obviously manufactured by the opposition for want of better campaign material. From the very outset there has existed between the members of the executive national committee a perfect understanding and accord upon all questions relating to the management of the campaign. Nothing has occurred or can occur to disturb the harmony of our labors, least of all the imaginings of the republican press.

"Very truly yours,
"WILLIAM F. SHEEHAN."

TRAGEDY ON TRAIN TWO MEN KILLED

Third One Is Stabbed and Pushed Off Train.

Hillary Altman Kills Jackson Duncan and Charles Altman Kills Jim Riley, Negro—Renewal of Fight by Altmans and Duncans.

Valdosta, Ga., September 12.—One of the coaches of the Georgia Southern and Florida passenger train, coming from Jacksonville to this city, last night was the scene of one of the bloodiest chapters that has been written in the history of the Okefinokee regions.

In a general melee a white man named Jackson Duncan was stabbed to death, two negroes were killed and Marshal Duncan was stabbed in several places, and either thrown from the train running or fell off. The men who did the killing, according to the report, are Charles and Hillary Altman, who reside near Baxter, Fla.

The killing was the result of a drunken row, preceded by a long period of bad feeling between the Duncans, who are prominent naval stores men, and the Altmans and other citizens of that place, who appear to have been resentful of the development which the still and the mill had brought to that section of country. The Duncans have stated here a number of times that they were always having trouble with their neighbors, who persisted in trespassing upon their lands.

Two Stabbed to Death.

Yesterday a large crowd from Moniac and Baxter went to Jacksonville to spend the day. Most of the crowd were in an intoxicated condition last night when they boarded the train. W. M. Duncan, the father of the younger Duncans, was in the crowd, but he and his sons are said to have been sober. The six or eight men who made up the other faction were very boisterous after the train pulled out from Jacksonville and picked a quarrel with a negro named Jim Riley, who worked for the Duncans.

Like a flash Charles Altman, who accused the negro of being in debt to him, drew his dirk and stabbed the negro to the heart. The negro fell between the seats and died instantly.

Then Jackson Duncan remonstrated with Altman and Hillary Altman draw a dirk and stabbed Duncan, who died in a minute or so. Marshall Duncan was also stabbed and was either pushed from the train or fell off. He was badly injured by the bruises he sustained in the fall and also by the half dozen knife wounds he received. Another negro was killed in the melee.

The two Altmans slipped from the car to the platform and jumped from the train as it slowed down, but got up on the rear end.

W. M. Duncan in the meantime had drawn his revolver and was hunting for the Altmans in all of the coaches. A Macon baseball player was hidden in one of the closets, and Duncan supposed him to be the murderer of his son. After firing several shots at the door, he smashed it with an ax, but the Macon man has escaped through the window to the platform of the car and into the ladies' coach.

Renewal of the Difficulty.

This morning, according to reports, the row was renewed between the Duncans and the parties of the other side. Friends of the Altmans, it is said, met at their house and went to Baxter, where a fusilade occurred between them and W. M. Duncan and another younger son. W. M. Duncan was shot through the fleshy part of his stomach twice and his son was shot through the arm.

Your Nerves

Are the life, the vitality, the energy of your body.

It is the nerves that cause the heart to pulsate, the lungs to inhale the oxygen, the brain to direct the motion of every organ of the body, the stomach to digest food, the liver to secrete the bile, the kidneys to filter the blood, and the bowels to carry off the waste.

When the nerves of the stomach become weakened or exhausted, indigestion, constipation and inflammation result, because the stomach is inactive.

This is true of all the organs of the body, and proves that to cure disease you must strengthen the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Is the great specific for the nerves, and in bringing them back to health never fails to cure all cases of Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Headache, Spasms, Backache, Muscular Twitchings, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

"For two years physicians and health resorts failed to relieve me of a complication of stomach, liver, kidney and heart affections. Six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine cured me."—

RESOLUTE GEORGIA GIRL IS RURAL MAIL CARRIER

SUWANEE, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—Miss Viola Bennett, of Gwinnett county, is the only woman rural mail carrier in Georgia and the second woman in the country to receive a similar appointment from the United States postal department. There are women postmistresses in the United States and many of the feminine sex who aid in handling this branch of Uncle Sam's public service in various parts of the country, but only one other young woman holds a commission to cover a rural route and lay the mail daily at the doors of the scattered country folk. Tennessee claims the first woman awarded a similar position.

Miss Bennett, who is quite an attractive young woman of barely 20, won her appointment over seven male applicants, practically all of whom possessed superior educational advantages to those she enjoyed. She took up the work to aid her parents, who are in moderate circumstances, in bringing up and educating a large family of girls. She was appointed July 15th by the postoffice department at Washington and entered the service August 1st last.

Always an ambitious young woman, Miss Bennett sought some means to relieve the financial tightness in her family, and being brave, courageous and full of energy, she decided to make application for a rural route as a means of earning the neat sum of $60 per month or $720 a year. She was undismayed by discouragements and not to be baffled by the odds against her, and she ultimately won out and was assigned to a place.

Travels Lonely Route.

The route she daily traverses covers 25½ miles and has an area of 20 square miles. There are 112 houses in her territory and a population of 448 people to be served. Intersecting her path are six separate streams and one of them she is forced to cross as often as four times. In many place;s the road is sparsely settled and very rough.

But Miss Bennett is strong and robust and unafraid. Still she always has within easy reach a business-like looking gun with the use of which she is said to be very familiar. She is a modest and attractive young woman, easily makes friends and is highly complimented and encouraged by the patrons whom she daily serves with the papers and mail that bring the news of the great outside world.

Of Suwanee, Second Female Rural Mail Carrier Appointed in the United States.

Washington, September 12.—There has been a change in the Colombian consular general in New York, the reason being unknown to the state department. Senator Arturo Beingard, who has occupied the post of consul general about two years, has been relieved by Dr. Luis Enrique Bonilla. The notice of the change came to the state department from Senor Perez Triana, the second secretary of the Colombian legation, who writes from New York.

TWO WHITE MEN WERE SPOTTED

Before Day Club Discovered in Harris County.

Great Excitement Prevails Near West Point—Farmers in Neighborhood Arm for Protection—Two Negroes Have Been Arrested.

West Point, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—Considerable excitement was created here this morning by the report that a Before Day Club had been discovered in Harris county, about 10 miles from here, and that the negroes had decided that Cobb Daniel and Bartow Daniel, two prominent farmers, must be killed tonight.

This morning people living in the neighborhood armed themselves with rifles and shotguns and gathered at the home of the Daniels, determined to make it warm for the members of the club should they appear.

T. J. Burden and West Billingly, said to be the leaders of the Before Day Club men, have been captured, but whether they were taken to jail at Hamilton or not is unknown.

TO BE TRIED ON THURSDAY.

Two Companies of Military Will Guard Williford.

Camilla, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Whitely Williford, a negro who is under arrest for murder, committed in this county about a year ago, will be tried here Thursday of this week at a special call session of the superior court.

About a year ago Williford shot and killed W. B. West, a well-known white man in this county, and seriously wounded Turner Cox, also of this county. This negro had escaped from a convict camp, and a reward of $250 was offered for his arrest, and these citizens, thinking to get the reward, located Williford in an old barn, and went to arrest him, with the result named. Williford made good his escape, and since that time he has been at large, and succeeded in evading every posse that attempted to capture him, until last week, when he was arrested near Sneeds, Fla., and brought to Bainbridge, Ga., where he was landed in jail. It was reported that a mob of citizens of that county were forming to storm the jail and take the negro from the authorities by force, and he was immediately carried to another jail in the state for safe-keeping.

There is some apprehension of mob violence in this county, but the prisoner will be guarded by two military companies.

No Truth in His Confession.

La Junta, Colo., September 12.—Colonel Romaine, the prisoner at Topeka, Kans., who has been accused with complicity in the explosion at Independence depot, Cripple Creek, on June 6, was, it has been discovered, in La Junta on that day. He worked in the Santa Fe shops at La Junta for about two months, it is said, going under the name of I. O. White. But little credence is placed in his confession.

Made a Brigadier.

Americus, Ga., September 11.—(Special.)—Captain John A. Cobb, of Americus, received today his appointment of brigadier general commanding the western division of Georgia United Confederate Veterans. Captain Cobb is an enthusiastic worker in the interest of the veterans, and his friends appreciate the honor conferred.

HARRY WATSON DIES SUDDENLY

Popular Member of Constitution Force Passed Away Yesterday.

Harry Watson, foreman of the advertising mechanical department of The Constitution, died early yesterday morning at his home, 94 Capitol avenue.

Mr. Watson had suffered several months as a result of a very weak heart and his death, from heart failure, was sudden and not altogether unexpected. After a vacation of several months, he returned to his work a few weeks ago to all appearances much improved in health. But in spite of the best medical treatment and an indomitable will, he succumbed to the inevitable yesterday.

Mr. Watson had been identified with The Constitution for a number of years and his integrity as well as his strict adherence to duty have made the news of his death particularly sad to his employers and fellow workmen.

Besides being a man of unusual ability, his bright mind and kindly nature made him a man of universal popularity. He was as loyal to his friends as he was untiring in his work and that his work was untiring is shown by the fact that despite his poor health, he labored, unfaltering and without complaining, until his demise yesterday morning.

His body will be taken to Washington, D. C., his old home, where the interment will occur. He leaves a wife and little daughter.

The P. W. Underfeed Furnace Reduces Coal Bills One-Half to Two-Thirds.
This Furnace is built on scientific principles. The fuel is fed from below and the fire is on top. The gases and smoke are consumed as they pass through the fire, not escaping up the chimney as they do in ordinary furnaces. The P. W. Underfeed has satisfactorily solved the problem of making a ton of the cheapest grade of coal go as far in producing heat as a ton of the most costly grade, and with less trouble. Simple and strong in construction, easy to operate.

IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT the city tax books close October 10, very few tax payers have called to pay the third installment of their taxes. The city treasurer and the tax assessors are ready and waiting to serve all who come, and unless there is an increase in the number pretty soon, the rush will be so great on the last two or three days that it will be impossible to attend to all. Those who fail to pay their taxes by the time the books close will be liable to marshal's costs.

Woman's Corpse Taken from Lake.

Chicago, September 12.—The body of a well-dressed woman, apparently 26 years old, has been taken from the lake near the Columbia Yacht Club house. Her identity is a mystery. She was 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighed 125 pounds and has brown hair and eyes. She wore a black silk skirt and waist and had a silver girdle chain, a black bead chain and locket and a heart-shaped pin.

REBUKED, BOY SHOT GRANDSIRE AND SELF.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Enraged because he had been censured for keeping late hours, Edward Dennis, 17 years old, is reported to have shot his grandfather, F. H. Meiser, with whom he lived at New Springfield, Staten Island. The lad then turned the pistol upon himself and inflicted a wound which probably will cause his death. The grandfather's wound was not serious.

GEORGIA IS PROSPEROUS WITH BEST YET TO COM

"GEORGIA has not been in as good condition since the war as she is today." This from Major J. C. McDonald, cashier of the Donhaw bank, of Fort Valley, Ga., who is stopping in Atlanta on his way to the confederate reunion at Rome. "I was very glad, indeed, to see The Constitution take such active steps in setting right the report of the comptroller of the currency to the effect that Georgia would have to borrow more money this year than last.

"I am sure of one thing and that is that the section around Fort Valley is far and away ahead of last year so far as a financial standing is concerned and that her resources and conditions were never better than they are right now. I was glad to see from the statements made by bank officials that this same condition was generally true throughout the state.

"But the section around Fort Valley is in a partieularly prosperous condition. You see we have just finished sending out the largest crop of peaches in the history of the state, and the returns from this crop has meant much money. One big advantage that the people have enjoyed has been the knowledge of how to handle the peaches as demonstrated this year. They have learned to profit by the mistakes of previous years until the shipments of fruit this past season has closely approached the acme of perfection.

"Then the railroads this year handled the big shipments in a way that left no room for a single complaint so far as I know and the peaches were hurried by way of the Central of Georgia, the Southern and the Baltimore and Ohio in record-breaking time to the big markets of the east. All of this resulted in profit for the fruit growers and now the cotton is coming in and with the best prospects for a big crop. The cotton has been selling for 10½ cents, although I see that the price dropped a quarter yesterday.

"The planters expect to continue to get good prices, and they say that they will not sell for less than 10 cents. If the price goes below that, they simply will hold their cotton and refuse to sell. What is more, they have enough ready money to continue to hold this cotton all of which only proves the fact that Georgia is in the very best of finances as was so strongly brought out by interviews from bank officials all over the state in The Constitution.

"Another thing that the people of the great Georgia peach belt are greatly interested in are the experiments of J. H. Haile, of the Haile Orchard Company, in the shipping of peaches to European cities. This has been tried previously, but the efforts have never met with any great degree of success. This year, however, an expert from the United States agricultural department was down and personally superintended the shipment and packing of the fruit for its long trans-Atlantic voyage. Of course, these peaches bring a tremendous price in the European cities, and while only the wealthy can buy them, if the experiment this year proves a success, it will mean a new field for the fruit growers of Georgia and a profitable one.

"I really couldn't begin to try and estimate the amount of money that has been brought in by the peaches this season, although I have heard that Mr. Wright, who is the largest individual fruit grower in the world, received over $50,000, and that the Haile interests received twice this sum. But one fact is certain. Georgia has been enjoying the greatest prosperity and the prospects are that the best is yet to come."

More of the Originality In Fall Suits for Boys

Mothers are especially appreciative of the newness and charming originality in all our little men's suits for Fall.
Originality without the shoddy or the gaucherie—there's where so many stores fall down. Along with novelty it takes a quickness for naming good taste.
Plus the Muse demand for good quality, the boys' store has no rivals.

No Let Up to the Into-the-Store Tramp, Tramp, Tramp Of That Great Dress Goods Army

From Germany, from France, from England, from home looms such quantities crowding on one another as makes you wonder where the mountains of stuffs can be stored away.

Every counter in the Dress Goods section is richer and brighter for this inflow--many of them are heaped as never before with woven elegancies.

French Silk-and-wool Novelties, quiet in tone and full of surprising beauty.

All-wool Novelties with almost the sheen of silk. Self-color Figured Novelties tempting to the most refined taste—Plaids, Dots, Stripes and all that curious curly, fuzzy, hairy brood.

And so on through low grades and high grades and every quality that is worth your buying thought. Black stuff for instance.

Nearly every design that is making pleasant talk in the Colored Ranks has its double in the Blacks. Dozens and dozens of patterns, the pick of hundreds and hundreds.

Some of the lots that make their first bow this week are much less than you may have expected to pay.

Broadcloth is enshrined in its own exalted niche and needs no extolling. Nothing can be found to take its place. There is an unobtrusive elegance peculiar to it which no other fabric approaches. Broadcloth at $1.50, black and colors. Look at it, lift a fold, finger it. Substance there—lustre, too — every Broadcloth excellence that's known.

Did you ever wear a slimpsy Broadcloth? Rub such a one against the nap. Fuzzes up like a canton flannel. Maybe not much, but it did get fluffy - faced when stroked against the grain. Nothing canton flannelly about ours, rub it as you may. High-bred and richly calendered.

Ombre, Alma, Boucle and Worsted Plaids—the components of the rainbow in various combinations — here they are.

Eyes and fingers—yours—not pen and type are needed. All Atlanta knows where to find the brilliant show. Some of them we follow from the dedesigners nebulous thought to full achievement. Others we catch complete, as, with exclusif impress, they spring late upon the market. Such efforts bring the sparkling freshness that meet and greet you where the Plaids are concentrated. Dreamier, dressier, daintier than the Plaids of any other season.

Natte Weaves are still securely intrenched in popular favor. Half a dozen, or sometimes a dozen threads side by side for warps and and filling. Under, over, under, over, under, over.

Effect of a lilliputian's minimized checker-board multiplied indefinitely.

Quaintly pretty, particularly when the crossing threads are of different color tones or sharply contrasting.

Dress Goods Specials

All-Wool Cheviot--50c

Wonderful how the loom men can sneak cotton in a Cheviot—comb it into the woolen yarn sometimes. But this manufacturer never lets any cotton enter his door. And he chooses his wool with jealous care, long fibre, clean and bright—fine wool, black, blue, brown, gray, green, tan, castor—44 inches wide, 50c.

Novelty Corkscrews--75c

Behind these novelty Corkscrew Worsteds there is a story of a commision house that made advances and of a mill man who needed cash. Out of it all comes the most remarkable offering of the kind we have ever made.

Freshest of fashion—smoothish finish—blue, brown and green grounds divided by white and tinted threads into combination stripes and plaids—42 inches wide, 75c.

Plain Granite Weaves--75c

Men familiar with the trade for a generation say this is the littlest price ever put on such a stuff. Look closely at the pebbly surfaces—they will stand the scrutiny smilingly. Not a flaw of the faintest kind—perfect loomwork. Hand-weaving couldn't produce such exact results—black and all the wanted colors—50 inches wide—75c.

Black "Ruffnot" Cheviot---$1.35

Coarse—uneven threads so loosely woven that at first glance you think some one has blundered. But look again. There's method in that madness. It is art, not accident, that has made this curious effect.

"Ruffnot"—the name is a satire—the stuff is rough—48 inches wide, $1.35.

Lansdowne

Peace hath her victories.

One of the greatest material triumphs is in the almost immaterial fabrics produced from silk and wool.

Textorial talent throughout the world has been taxed for the creation of the most delicate dress stuffs of silk and wool.

Englishman, Frenchman, German and American have been in competition. W. F. Read, of America, won with Lansdowne.

This season Lansdowne is more perfect than ever before. Folly to attempt description. It is indescribable. An iridescent stuff that has made captive the chasing, changeable sheen now so popular—all colors, 40 inches wide, $1.25.

Shepherd Checked Lansdowne — black-and-white, brown-and-white, blue-and-white—40 inches wide, $1.25.

The fibre and breeding of this Read family of textiles are unequaled. Their recognition is ample and honorable.

Already popular, they are making friends by hundreds.

Dress Goods.

From top to bottom of the Dress Goods list there isn't a worthy quality missing from the stock we show.

Nor is there a wanted color or a favorite weave lacking.

Tricks of weave and novelty touches add costs that only the trained expert can correctly judge of. But there isn't a counter without some of the old familiars that every woman knows. Measure values by any of them.

Millinery.

The great Southern Millinery event of the season is still going on in our Reception for the first exhibition of Fall styles.

Paris is represented fully as usual, but the lingo of French milliners' names has been given in our announcements so often that it needs no repetition.

You know the names, Virot, Heitz-Boyer, et al. Just as familiar as "Thirty days hath September," and all the rest of that jingle.

Paris is not so necessary to Atlanta as formerly, for our skilled milliners and trimmers do not always take off their hats to Paris.

But Paris is important, very important, for Paris is still imperial in Fashion. Therefore the best originals in millinery art from Paris are here, and translations from Paris are here, and our own American originals are here.

Does millinery rank among the fine arts? Yes, if beauty is the test of a fine art.

You'll say so when you see the display.

And everybody is invited to see it.

Epingle Taffetas---49c.

Why Epingle? Because perhaps they're neat as a pin, or possibly because they'll take pin-money to buy. Or again, the showers of tinted dashes are about as thick as an average pin. Do you catch the glint? Some are iridescent, some hit and miss, some two-toned---green, red, brown and blue grounds---19 inches wide---49c.

Figured Crepe de Chines

Impressionist? Yes, much so; perhaps they are what Claude Monet would produce were he to supply designs for evening Dress Goods.

Such is the suggestion that comes from a study of these Printed Crepe de Chines that simulate hand-painting so accurately.

Flowers are scattered on creamy grounds—flowers in the palest, softest, daintiest pastel tints. Many new friends are seeking knowledge of our rare Silks.

It is quite natural. Discriminating criticism finds no equal field. The ablest textile experts become the intensest admirers of our shimmering trophies.

But examine the conservatory of Crepes. A bower of loveliness, form and color of the meadows at their sunniest caught in billowy film of creamy foam—23 inches wide, $1.50.

Solid colors—fifty-four of them.

23 inches wide at 75c.

24 inches wide at $1.00.

42 inches wide at $1.50.

Printed Mousselines—an ethereal host—flowers wrought on delicate ivory grounds—$1.00, $1.50 and $2.25.

All-wool Black Bengaline Soie---$1.75.

The thought of the moment touches a rich weave.

Dress Goods lack a fixed language. One says "Wool Poplin", another says "Epingleine", we say "Bengaline Soie". All mean the same. Comes of making hash of French and English. Simply a plain fabric with a fine cross-rib---44 inches wide---$1.75.

And only a slight remove leads to the same stuff with little self-colored Jacquard and Armure figures.

A WELL KNOWN GEORGIAN HOOKS 408 POUND SHARK

Morehead City, N. C., September 12.—(Special.)—The largest shark ever landed at this place was caught a few days ago by W. C. Clark, of Covington, Ga., and weighed 408 pounds. The mammoth maneater was towed in to the wharf and had to be lifted from the water with a derrick. He was caught with a steel hook attached to a hemp line and breaks the record in point of size for anything of the kind ever caught on this coast.

Mr. Clark, who is a prominent business man of Newton county, Georgia, has a natural antipathy to sharks and determined to do his part toward putting a quietus on some of the maneaters. He therefore provided himself with a steel shark hook and forsook for the day the favorite sport of angling for the edible fish that here just pray to be taken out of the water. Large quantities of Spanish mackerel, trout, pompano and sheepshead are caught every day.

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad, which runs from Goldsboro to this place, has been rented by the Howland Improvement Company, and that company has also rented the Atlantic hotel. New schedules will be put on and this popular resort will be kept open winter and summer. Many Georgians are enjoying the fishing here and a party of northern visitors are expected this week.

COTTON LEAK BEING PROBED.

Washington, September 12.—Secretary Wilson is pressing the investigation of the charges of the Savannah, Ga., cotton exchange that the government crop report of September 2 was obtained by certain parties in advance. The department, in a reply to its request, has received word from the exchange that J. S. Bache & Co., of New York, sent the telegram involved in the Savannah case and the matter is being probed in New York and this city.

WHY LIEBHART KILLED SELF.

His Mind Deranged by Criticisms in Government Report.

Washington, September 12.—D. P. Liebhart, the superintendent of the dead letter office, who committed suicide at his office last night, was under investigation some months ago, the result of which failed to impeach his character and showed nothing that reflected on his integrity, but did reflect on the methods of administration of his bureau. The report on the investigation has never been officially given out. Mr. Liebhart was of a very sensitive temperament and the criticisms in the report added to physical afflictions from which he had been suffering, contributed to the mental condition that prompted the taking of his life.

NO GRETNA GREEN FOR MR. WRAY

Columbus Pastor Says He Is Against Runaway Marriages.

Columbus, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—To a crowded church Rev. J. E. Wray, pastor of St. Paul M. E. church, preached last night on the subject of "Elopement," and in view of the number of Gretna Green marriages here recently the subject was considered timely.

Rev. Mr. Wray said he did not propose to dictate what other ministers should do—he was the keeper of only his own conscience—but for his part he has always refused to marry runaway couples. He believes that it is best to send such couples to justices of the peace and other state officers, thinking that when young people show such disrespect to their parents the church should not place the seal of its approval upon such a marriage. "Send such couples to the state," he urged. "The church cannot afford to sanctify such nuptial contracts."

The speaker considered that lack of reverence for old age was one of the most alarming signs of the times. Parental neglect was largely responsible for this, he said. He urged that parents be more careful in the rearing of children for, in the last analysis, the greater part of the blame for elopements rests upon the young people themselves.

The minister criticised the action of Columbus fathers in carrying their children down to the Columbus race track, to "an atmosphere tainted with profanity and gambling." "No one admires a fine horse more than I," he said, "but you just wait until I carry my boy down to that race track to see one!" The inference was that the audience would have to wait a long time.

The sermon was one of the most powerful delivered in a Columbus pulpit this year, and attracted much interest.

BOLD ROBBERY AT AMERICUS.

Mrs. Apperson Fainted When Negro Made Threats.

Americus, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—A daring robbery was committed here tonight, at the Apperson residence, a block from police headquarters, a desperate negro attacking and robbing Mrs. Apperson, while other members of the family were at supper. Mrs. Apperson confronted the negro as she entered her room, and, at his threats to kill her, the lady fainted.

The desperado then proceeded to search the apartments, securing a considerable sum of money and escaping before assistance came.

The robbery was the boldest ever committed in Americus, and considerable excitement prevails throughout the city.

MRS. H. M. FLAGLER ROBBED OF MONEY AND JEWELRY

Newport, R. I., September 12.—Word has been received today from New York that a robbery by which Mrs. H. M. Flagler lost a chatelaine bag containing money and jewelry aggregating several thousand dollars in value at Newport was being investigated by the detectives. The police say they had no report of the robbery of Mrs. Flagler. The messages from New York said the chatelaine bag contained $6,000 in cash, a draft for $10,000 and jewels valued at $4,000.

$1,000 REWARD FOR WRECKERS

Central Railroad Increases Reward for Parties Causing Wrecks.

Savannah, Ga., September 12.—(Special.)—A reward of $1,000 is offered for the detention of, and evidence to convict, the parties who wrecked the Central railway trains at Rocky Ford and Ogeechee on Friday and Saturday nights. Superintendent T. S. Moise decided this afternoon, after a more thorough investigation, to increase the reward of $500 offered yesterday.

Central railway officials tonight stated that they had heard nothing from the special agents who are out on the line of road trying to run down the wreckers. If there are any developments they should come within the next few days, in the opinion of those who have the investigation on foot.

Relief for Freight Shippers.

Shippers who are intent on securing federal relief from the mulcting process of the railroads through an equitable and logical adjustment of freight tariff forced by plenary powers conferred by congress on the interstate commerce commission, waded through the president's letter of acceptance with a microscope to find how he stands in the great fight for transportation justice which is agitating communities and business interests all over the broad land.

Candidate Roosevelt had practically promised to say something to the shippers' liking, since, in reply to a letter addressed to him by the editor of Freight, in which his attention was called to the fact that the platform of his party was silent on the whole subject, whereas the democratic platform was strongly pledged to giving the interstate commerce commission genuine regulative authority, he assured the writer through Private Secretary Loeb that "I think his (the president's) reference to the subject in his letter of acceptance will be satisfactory to you."

We find in the Roosevelt letter of acceptance reference to "the action of the last congress in enlarging the scope of the interstate commerce law," which alleged action, the president avers, has resulted in the said law "now being administered with entire efficiency."

If language means anything and is not merely a device to conceal thought, President Roosevelt assures us in plain English that the workings of the interstate commerce commission law, under its "enlarged scope(!)" are "entirely efficient."

What do the buncoed shippers think of that? We are somewhat curious to see the October issue of Freight, which in its current issue holds out to its readers the dubious promise that the president will, in his characteristic vigorous fashion, supply the ominous omission in the Chicago platform in his forthcoming letter of acceptance. Freight profresses to be "The sole representative of the great shipping public of the United States," and if so, it should have an army of influential readers. Since the president has so frankly declared himself, it is clearly the duty of the shippers' organ to enter the political lists as the champion of Judge Parker, who alone stands on a platform committed to the relief of that large and highly representative class of citizens. The St. Louis document does not regard the legislation of any republican congress since President McKinley was inaugurated as having appreciably "enlarged the scope" of the interstate commerce law and made its workings "entirely efficient." On the contrary, it declares the law inoperative for all practical purposes of traffic regulation and demands a bona fide commission with plenary powers to adjust freight tariffs and redress real transportation grievances.

Freight is busy circulating a petition to congress which is also a memorial setting forth the present impotence of the interstate commerce commission and the nature of the shippers' unredressed wrongs. Freight thus states the nature and object of this petition:

> The shippers' petition calls for the passage of the Quarles-Cooper bill, which went to the interstate committees of the senate and house at last winter's session and slept there undisturbed. The measure, in a nutshell, merely provides for making the decisions of the interstate commerce commission operative. That is, when a rate made by a railroad is found to be unjust, the commission shall have the power, not simply to declare the rate unfair (as it has now), but to decide what rate would be reasonable and fair, such rate to remain in force until set aside by a court decision.

This is plain enough and gives the lie to the nervy claim that a recent republican congress, or any republican congress, has so amended the interstate commerce law as to make it subserve the end for which it was created, which wholesome end was thwarted and negatived by emasculative republican amendments and persistent adverse federal court decisions. The Quarles-Cooper bill, which promises some measure of genuine relief, was introduced because at present the shipper gets no tangible relief and it is possible for him to get none through the existing legislation. The bill that really meant something was left asleep in the congressional pigeon-hole when the last congress adjourned, and if President Roosevelt did not have a hand in chloroforming it, he must have smelled the chloroform.

Atlanta, in common with hundreds of other handicapped and hamstrung communities in every state of the union, is vitally interested in this proposed remedial legislation. Any relief that comes otherwise than through federal regulation is only partial, and at present what is called federal regulation is a travesty on the term. The interstate commerce commission is a colossal humbug, not through its intrinsic faults and deficiencies, but because of the limitations of the organic act, which, mild and inefficient as it is, can be circumvented by the pooled and powerful common carriers in the federal courts on all really vital and relevant points of law. What is needed is an interstate commerce act that will hold legal water and answer fully the requirements of its existence.

The Maneuvers at Manassas.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away and the newspaper paragraphers must find other material for their trenchant pens, it may be opportune to say a serious word about the military maneuvers just completed at Manassas.

There has been a good deal of misinterpretation of, and misrepresentation concerning, the events of the past week on and around the famous battlefield. Enterprising newspaper reporters with aspirations to win fame as war correspondents, have been gathered in numbers upon the scene, and in their search for the sensational have magnified some very trivial occurrences to the detriment of the maneuvers. An illustration of this was the undue prominence given the statement that the battlefield was in an uproar because a Georgia private soldier had refused to salute a negro militia officer. Comptroller General Wright, of Georgia, is authority for the statement that if such an incident ever happened it was not heard of by those on the ground, and that it was the policy of those in charge to prevent any contact that could be productive of any racial friction.

The soldiers who were there—officers and men, regular and militia—had far too important business in hand to be disturbed by sensational rumors. The maneuvers were held for the purpose of instruction to the soldiers of the different states; and the men who took part in them bear uniform testimony to the value of the experience thus gained.

In addition to the actual experience of this mimic warfare on a large scale, there are other respects in which, it seems to us, these maneuvers have been, and will be in the future, of great value. Not the least of these is the inspiration toward the betterment of their organization that comes to the state soldiery. This contact with the militia of other states is sure to arouse a spirit of emulation which will prove valuable to the soldiery of those states in which the militia spirit is relatively weak.

But these benefits are comparatively unimportant when compared with the larger benefit to come as the result of the better understanding between the people of the different sections of the country which is sure to follow personal contact. It is here, as we see it, that most benefcial results—results reaching far deeper than the environment of the men immediately involved—are certain to follow these militia gatherings; we trust they will be held annually if for no other reason than that they are sure to breed a broader national spirit.

There would be no sectional differences in this country if the people from one part knew the people of the others—north, south, east and west. There would be no misunderstanding concerning conditons in these different geographical sections if the people were brought in sufficiently close contact to admit of the personal discussion of these conditions.

"Everything that contributes to that closer contact is to be encouraged. It is the policy of these militia maneuvers to brigade a New England regiment with a southern regimnt and a western regiment, or to similarly bring the sections together; and the result is that the men from different parts of the country are brought into intimate personal contact with one an other. This close personal relationship between the young men of the different states is sure to prove of great value in the promotion of perfect national understanding; and if the annual maneuvers accomplished no other result, they would be well worth continuing on that account alone.

But as we have pointed out, they are of real value in other directions as well. That the men who attend are benefited as soldiers there can be no less doubt than that they are broadened as Americans.

The Veterans at Rome.

This week the headquarters for all ex-confederates of Georgia will be at Rome. The annual reunion of Georgia veterans will be held in that sterling north Georgia city on Wednesday and Thursday, and every indication points to a large attendance.

The citizens of Rome have made every arrangement for practical expression of the hearty welcome they have for the old veterans in their hearts. The city has been lavishly decorated, and everything possible for the entertainment of the visitors will be done. The programme of exercises, all of which will be held in a large tent, includes addresses of welcome by Mayor Lavender on behalf of the city, Congressman John W. Maddox on behalf of the Rome veterans, and G. E. Maddox on behalf of the Sons of Veterans. Captain W. H. Harrison will respond on behalf of the visitors. The annual address of the division commander will be delivered on Wednesday. On Thursday there will be a parade and other exercises, including an address by Miss Elizabeth Lumpin, of Columbia. The usual business of the association will be transacted Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning.

The preparations for the reunion are complete in every detail. There will be special headquarters, in charge of Captain George Newton, for the Eighth Georgia, a number of companies of which went from Rome. It is expected that not only Georgians, but a number of veterans from other parts of the south will be present, and all who attend can feel assured of the heartiest of welcomes.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The return of the troops at Manassas, which began Sunday, filled the streets of Atlanta with the wearers of khaki yesterday and certainly no body of troops from a sham battle ever looked more like old campaigners than did these same soldiers.

Atlanta's great need for a new depot was again practically demonstrated yesterday, for the greatest difficulty was experienced in getting the special troop trains through the old shed and on to the tracks of the connecting lines over which the soldiers were to continue their homeward way. So filled was the old depot with its regular trains that many of the troop trains were delayed for some little time on this account. But in a way these delays proved of advantage to Atlanta, for all of the officers and many of the enlisted men improved the opportunity of buying dinners here and also making several purchases in the downtown shopping districts.

The first troops to arrive were ten cars carrying members of the First Texas infantry. These men came over the Southern, as did all of the other trains, and left over the West Point route for New Orleans. Superintendent Cox and General Passenger Agent Billups, of the Atlanta and West Point, met all of the incoming trains and personally looked after the matter of watering the cars and looking after the comforts of the troops. This first section arrived at 11:15 and left at 12:50. The next train to arrive was one of nine cars carrying the Second Texas infantry and personally conducted by Southeastern Passenger Agent John H. Word, of the Texas and Pacific, with headquarters at Atlanta.

Next came the Alabama troops in two sections personally escorted by District Passenger Agent J. B. Heyward, of the West Point, who traveled with the soldiers to Montgomery. Still later two sections of Georgia troops arrived and these were accompanied by Traveling Passenger Agent McMillin, of the Southern, also of Atlanta.

The Atlanta railroad world is greatly agitated over the reports of so many recent efforts to derail trains on both the Central of Georgia and the Seaboard Air Line. One thing is certain and that is that if any of the culprits are caught they will be made an example of in the way of punishment, as this is a capital crime in the state of Georgia.

Fruit venders made small fortunes in selling their wares to the sections of hungry soldiers that passed through yesterday.

Forty-five negro ministers left Atlanta yesterday over the Southern for Austin, where they go to attend the colored Baptist annual convention.

J. G. Hollenbeck, the Atlanta Louisville and Nashville man, announces that arrangements have been made for carrying many hundreds of Georgians to the Southern Cotton Growers' convention at St. Louis September 26, and the Farmers' National Congress which meets at the same place at the same time. Already enough Georgians have signified their intention of being present at the cotton convention to insure a big representation of the Empire State of the South.

THE PASSING THRONG.

Dr. Erich Zoepffel-Quellenstein, member of the diplomatic corps of Germany and consul from that country to Atlanta, arrived here yesterday and immediately took up his residence in this city by establishing temporary quarters at the Piedmont hotel. What Dr. Zoepffel wants now is a residence on Peachtree street. He made these wants known to Forrest Adair yesterday and explained his wish in this way: "While I was still in Berlin and after I had received my appointment to Atlanta, I was told at once that I must secure a residence on Peachtree street. When I came to New York and talked with my friends in that city as soon as they heard I was coming to Atlanta they insisted that I must take up a residence on Peachtree street. Really, is it true that you have only one street in Atlanta on which to live?"

Germany is the first foreign nation to send a representative to Atlanta and Dr. Zoepffel is the first incumbent of this new office. His mission is to further cement the strong ties of friendship and business interests that now exist between this country and that of Germany and in this way he will exercise semi-diplomatic functions and report directly to the foreign office in Berlin.

All of which means that Atlanta has been recognized as a world power and the time is not far distant when no social function will be considered a great success unless the members of the diplomatic corps—for more countries are certain to follow Germany's example—resplendent in their foreign decorations are among those present. The reason Atlanta was selected for the establishment of the consulate was because it was recognized in Europe as the leading commercial center of the great southeast and the capital city of the Empire state.

The new consul is a native-born Russian of German parentage and has a most pleasing personality. There is no questioning the fact that he is a diplomat both by birth and training and to interview him is like a breath of fresh air straight from the offices of the foreign legation at Washington.

Receiving his education at the universities in St. Petersburg, Paris, Jena and Heidleberg, he has represented his emperor in many other posts of importance, including Paris, Sofia, Barcelona, St. Petersburg, Chicago, Athens and Antwerp. And in his residence at these many cities he has taken to himself a truly cosmopolitan air that is as noticeable as it is pleasing.

Immediately after his arrival, he was met by a number of representative Atlantans and later expressed himself as greatly delighted with both the city and the people who are now to become his neighbors.

Charles D. Hill, Jr., is the name given the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hill, Jr. The young man, whose recent arrival has been the cause of congratulation upon the part of Mr. Ben Hill's friends, gives promise of acquiring a popularity equal to that of his distinguished uncle and namesake.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA."

A Song of Rest.

Who wants a harp of a thousand strings,
to play from east to west?
All that I ask of heaven is a quiet place
to rest,
Where never a cloud will dim the sky,
or a red thorn wound the breast!

Just rest—
Just rest,
From the heavenly east to west!

Who wants a crown with a sapphire gleam in the regions of the blest?
Better a quiet place to dream the beautiful dream of rest,
Safe as a bird, storm-beaten to the shelter of its nest!

Just rest—
Just rest,
From the heavenly east to west!

For after the care and clamor, the prisoners oppress
Shall all lie down together when the Lord of them thinks best.
Let Him give them gold and rubies:—But
I shall ask for rest!

Just rest—
Sweet rest,
From the heavenly east to west!

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN MEET.

Ninth Biennial Convention Is in Session at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., September 12.—The ninth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was called to order here today by John J. Hannahan, grand master of the order. Two executive sessions will be held daily, and it is expected that the convention will occupy two weeks. Seven hundred delegates were present, and, at least, three hundred more are expected. The report of the grand master, to be read this evening, will show that the organization is in a prosperous condition; that in the past two years there has not been a strike of firemen on any road in which the brotherhood is organized, all differences having been settled without delay. During the year ended June 30, 660 lodges were organized. Since the organization was founded $7,940,165 has been paid to members and their families for death and disability claims.

During the year ended June 30, the receipts of the order were $1,853,801 and the disbursements $1,017,550.

An important question to be reconsidered is the removal of the headquarters from Peoria, Ills., to Buffalo.

INQUIRY COURT REPORTS WILL BE READY TODAY

THE Statesboro court of inquiry will file its report with Governor Terrell today.

The court met yesterday morning at the Piedmont, in pursuance to a call by its president, Colonel W. E. Wooten, of Albany, and was in session during the entire day. The time of the court yesterday was spent in perusing the great mass of evidence contained in the stenographer's report of the inquiry.

This reading was practically completed yesterday and Stenographer Kingsbury, who reported the investigation at Savannah, has been notified by Colonel Wooten to be ready to take down and write out the court's report some time today.

In the event the report contains charges of a nature to warrant such action, the governor will at once appoint a court martial to meet, probably in Savannah, at an early date. It is understood that the members of the court have practically made up their minds with regard to the matter in hand, but nothing definite concerning the views of the court members could be learned yesterday.

Captain R. M. Hitch, of Savannah, who commanded the troops detailed for duty at Statesboro, was in the city yesterday and spent the greater part of the day at the capitol with his brother, Secretary C. M. Hitch, of the executive department.

The members of the court were all present yesterday as follows: Colonel Wooten, president; Lieutenant Colonel W. W. Barker, of Atlanta; Lieutenant Colonel Jordan F. Brooks, of Savannah, and Captain Warren Grice, of Hawkinsville, recorder. The latter has no voice in making the report.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the coming report and the announcement of its contents will be awaited with the greatest eagerness.

A large number of state house officials will attend the state reunion of confederate veterans at Rome this week. Among those who will go are Governor Terrell, Comptroller General Wright, State Treasurer R. E. Park, Captain W. H. Harrison, and Commissioner of Pensions Lindsey. These officials will leave on Wednesday and return to Atlanta on Thursday. They will all be prominent figures at the reunion.

At 10 o'clock this morning Chairman J. Pope Brown, of the state railroad commission, will call that body to order for the purpose of resuming the consideration of a revision of the standard tariff of the state. It is expected that it will take several days more to complete the task of revision, but it is also expected that before the week ends the commission will issue an order destined to relieve Atlanta in a great measure of the evil effects of prevalent freight rate discrimination.

Painters and plasterers are now busy in the offices of Commissioner of Agriculture O. B. Stevens and these workmen before they leave will have completely renovated the walls and ceiling of all offices occupied by the department of agriculture. The walls and ceilings in the offices of Commissioner Stevens, Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture R. F. Wright and Chief Clerk Joseph Johnson will all be retinted and other improvements and renovations will be made, so that they will be among the most attractive rooms in the capitol.

Miss Ella Stevens, the popular daughter of Commissioner Stevens, is slowly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. While her improvement is slow, it is constant and regular and her family and many friends now hope and believe that in a short time she will be entirely restored to health.

Mrs. Joseph Johnson, wife of Chief Clerk Joseph Johnson, of Commissioner Stevens' office, was taken somewhat worse on Saturday and has not as yet returned to the gratifying improvement which she enjoyed for several days last week.

State School Commissioner Merritt returned to the city yesterday evening after an absence of several days, addressing educational rallies in various counties of Georgia. His last educational address was delivered yesterday at Elberton. He says that a lot of enthusiasm for public school welfare is being stirred up all over the state by these educational rallies.

THE BATTLE OF MANASSAS; A COMPARISON BY A VETERAN

OF the thousands of soldiers and civilian visitors at Manassas last week there were few who enjoyed themselves more than Comptroller General William A. Wright.

For him it was a revival of old memories, some sweet and pleasant and others sad, as well as a pleasant outing. In the old days when the fighting round Manassas was of a sterner sort than the mock business of the other day Colonel Wright was there and on that bloody field he received the wound that cost him a limb.

And after being thus wounded, as told in yesterday's Constitution, he spent many happy days growing strong again as the guest in a charming southern home nearby. There were fair hands and willing hearts to minister to the wounded soldier then and a smiling garden adjoining that home, wherein the scarred warrior could lie beneath spreading trees and inhale the odorous breath of roses while he waited for a return of strength.

During his visit of last week Colonel Wright renewed some of these old acquaintances. His fair nurse, the bloom of youth stolen from her cheek by the intervening years, was still there to greet him, but others of her family were absent. The passing years had claimed them and theirs was the absence of eternity.

And yet, withal, it was a happy visit. Perhaps there hovered over the old home a sacred shade of melancholy laid there by the stormy terrible days of old, but that was more a holy peace and tenderness than a present, aching grief. And though the old battle field echoed with the rattle of rifles and the roar of cannon, as of old, it was mimic war and in the clamor and dust the spirit of peace spread her glad wings.

All these things combined to make the visit delightful for Colonel Wright. The present and the past were woven and interwoven in one charming whole and when the comptroller general appeared at his desk in the capitol yesterday morning he was brimful of Manassas memories and anecdotes.

"It was just such weather in 1862 when we marched into that country," he said, "The heat was something frightful and the dust, pale, yellowish dust, was thick on the trees and grass, the caisons and the uniform of the men just as it was when we assembled there forty-two years ago determined to capture Washington.

"The old scene was as vivid in my memory as the last one is now and I was struck by the sameness, outwardly, of the two. The faces of the soldiers engaging in mimic warfare were begrimed and brown just as our faces were. The powdery dust lay just as thick on their uniforms and was sprinkled all over the landscape. There were the same tracks of many feet, the same long sinuous lines made by the gun wheels, the same stragglers, footsore and weary, appearing now and then on the dusty turnpikes. It was the Manassas of war days over again as though some one had painted a picture of the old scene.

"There has been little change in the country round about and everywhere I saw well remembered houses and other objects. I didn't get to the spot where I was wounded. That was 2 miles and more away from Thoroughfare Gap, where General Corbin's headquarters were and it was almost impossible to secure a conveyance. Every horse and mule in all that country was simply fagged out and worked to death. They were the weariest looking lot of equines I've seen in many a year.

"That the scene had familiar memories for others besides myself was evidenced by an incident that happened one day during the maneuvers. General Bell, commander of the browns, ordered up a battery at Haymarket station, a point Jackson occupied for a time. This battery came up on the run, limbered up and began booming away. The first shot had scarcely ceased echoing when a grizzled old veteran hobbled up, shouting to General Bell, who sat on his horse nearby.

" 'If you hold the place like Jackson did once, gin'ral, all hell can't drive you out.'

"There was one circumstance about the maneuvers that amused me. That was the fact that people residing in the vicinity of the maneuver grounds all thought the blue army was made up entirely of northern troops and the brown army made up of southerners entirely. This mistake lead to some comical behavior on the part of residents of the surrounding country. When a soldier stopped at a farm house for a drink of water, for information, or for any other purpose the occupants of the house were always polite, but almost invariably asked him to which army he belonged. If he said to the browns he was invited in and informed that the best the house contained was his for the asking. But if he said to the blues the householders didn't have a great deal to say to him and he was not given that cordial invitation to enter.

"The bands on the day of review carried out this idea, and while the blue army marched past the reviewing stand such airs as 'Yankee Doodle,' 'Marching Through Georgia' and 'The Star-Spangled Banner' were discoursed, but when the brown army swung into the roadway before the stand the bands struck up 'Dixie,' 'The Bonny Blue Flag,' 'Maryland, My Maryland' and other southern airs. The spectators cheered the first airs, but the old southern tunes, all of them familiar and well beloved, provoked a very storm of applause, for the spectators for the most part were southern.

"By the way, among the Georgia boys present at the maneuvers was a grandson of General Stonewall Jackson. He is the 16-year-old son of W. E. Christian, of Atlanta, assistant general passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line railroad. This youngster was an honorary aide on the staff of General Barry, commander of the department of the gulf. I saw him once or twice, and he reminded me very much of his illustrious ancestor.

"One day, as we were about to sit down to dinner, General Barry and his staff rode up. Mr. Christian, Sr., was with us, and as General Barry's party started to ride away, the former said:

" 'Son, hadn't you better stay and eat dinner with us?'

"The reply was just such as General Jackson himself would have made under similar crcumstances and marked by the same dignity and courtesy. Said the young aide:

" 'Father, I am on General Barry's staff, and it is my duty to remain with him.'

"And just a little while before that the boy had informed us he hadn't had a mouthful to eat since disposing of some hardtack and coffee about midnight, a matter of some twelve hours or more.

"That reminds me of another fact demonstrated by the civil war service and by these last maneuvers, as well. The troops that came from the cities were able to stand more hardships, make longer marches, forego food with more ease, and, in general, get along better than their brothers from the country. That is a peculiar fact when you take into consideration the manual labor and outdoor life so familiar to the country boy, but it seems that city boys, being accustomed to going without food on occasion and leading more or less irregular lives, are able to stand more in the way or army hardships than the country boy.

"It was certainly a great pleasure to meet again the lady who nursed me so kindly in the days when my leg was amputated, and I was recovering from that wound. When I was at her home, a wounded prisoner, forty-two years ago, she was about twenty or twenty-one years of age, I imagine. She had two sisters and two brothers. One of the former was then a widow and is now dead. The other sister is married and resides in Gainesville, Va. One of the brothers was killed at Gettysburg, and the other, who was also in the confederate army, now lives at Gainesville. Their mother was a widow at the time I was carried to their home, and she has been dead several years. It was a son of the widowed sister I mentioned that I first saw.

"Altogether, the Manassas trip was one of the pleasantest experiences in my life, and I think that most of the troops enjoyed it, though I heard some say that if they'd known what they were going into they would have been d—d if they'd have gone."

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

Twelve Thousand Men Apply for Places at Stockyards.

Chicago, September 12.—It is stated that about 12,000 men applied for work at the stock yards today. About 4,500 of the applicants were taken back by the packers. Many of the non-union men failed to report for work, but a number appeared on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern and other railroads, giving rise to much dissatisfaction among the union men. Few clashes, however, were reported, chiefly fisticuffs between negro strike-breakers and white unionists. About 14,000 non-union men are still at work in the yards.

DR. MAHONEY IS HELD ON CHARGE OF MAYHEM

Small Fine Is Placed on C. R. Walker by the Recorder.

INTERESTING TESTIMONY IS GIVEN THE RECORDER

Court Room Was Crowded for the Occasion, and the Curious Ones Were Rewarded With Hearing Some Spicy Evidence.

The trial of Dr. D. P. Mahoney, C. R. Walker and Mrs. Mahoney before Recorder Broyles yesterday was one of the most highly dramatic that has occurred in the police court in a very long while. The result was that Dr. Mahoney was held in a $300 bond for mayhem, which is the disfiguring of another's face; Walker was fined $10.75 for being drunk and fighting, and the case against Mrs. Mahoney was dismissed.

They were arrested because of a fight on the fourth floor of the Kimball house Sunday between Dr. Mahoney and Mr. Walker.

In his statement, made with the voice and gesture of a tragedian, Dr. Mahoney exclaimed:

"Did I bite off that gentleman's ear? Yes, I did, and I or any other man under similar circumstances would have bitten off his head."

Mrs. Mahoney smiled during almost the whole of the investigation. She is a remarkably good looking woman of about 30 years of age.

Big Audience Present.

The court room was crowded, there being among the audience about 200 young men who flocked around the railing eagerly listening to every word that was said.

The first witness was Night Watchman Cleveland, of the Kimball. His story was as follows:

"I was told that a fight was going on in room No. 415 and I hurried there. It was about 9 o'clock at night. I found the door closed and when I opened it I saw Walker lying across the bed and Dr. Mahoney was on him holding him down. Walker was crying out that he would shoot Mahoney the moment he got up. Mahoney told me he would let Walker up if I would put handcuffs on him. I decided to send for a policeman and rang for a boy, who went after Officer Harper. In the meantime Mahoney had rolled Walker from the bed to the floor and when he held him there he bit off his ear. I picked up the ear and kept it in my pocket until called for by a physician."

Dr. Mahoney's Story.

Dr. Mahoney then told his story, which was delivered in a most dramatic style. The doctor is a very portly man, about 45 years of age, with iron gray hair and a clean shaved face. He greatly resembles the actor, John McCullough. He said:

"My wife and I were in our room and this man Walker came in and said he was an officer and wanted me. I had been in jail three months at Douglas, Coffee county, and I thought he wanted me about that. Then when I asked him about the matter he cursed me. I saw him put his hand on his pocket as if to draw a pistol and I threw him down and held him. Did I bite off his ear? Yes, I did, and any other man would have bitten off his whole head under such circumstances."

Walkers' story was as follows:

"I heard Dr. Mahoney and his wife having a row and I went to the door, which was open. Mrs. Mahoney invited me in and I accepted the invitation. Mahoney asked me to drink, after telling me he had been in jail. I was afraid to refuse and took one small drink. Six times I tried to leave and he would not let me. Finally without any provocation whatever he threw me down and bit my right ear off. It has been sewed back, but the physician tells me that it will not grow. I was not drunk."

Mrs. Mahoney's Story.

Mrs. Mahoney said:

"This man Walker rushed into our room, exclaiming he was an officer. I asked him to keep quiet and Dr. Mahoney took a drink with him. All of a sudden Mr. Walker fell over on the floor as if he had a fit. I put wet towels to his head. He then jumped up and said he would shoot the doctor. The doctor threw him down until an officer came in."

This was all the evidence. Judge W. R. Colquitt, who defended Mahoney, made a short speech in which he contended that all the doctor did was in self-defense.

Recorder Broyles held that Mahoney was not justifiable in maiming Walker for life. He said:

"This is a very curious affair in many respects. It is a very unfortunate thing for a man to lose his ear. The doctor could have held Walker without biting off an ear. It was very bad taste to say the least of it. I will hold Mahoney in a $300 bond for mayhem, will fine Walker $10.75 and dismiss the case against Mrs. Mahoney."

Walker paid his fine. Mahoney could not make his bond and he was sent to the Tower.

COFFIN FILLED WITH RIFLES

Fake Funeral Said To Have Taken Place Recently.

Americus, Ga., September 12.—(Special.) A remarkble story is told in Americus today of a fake funeral occurring in a little country town nearby quite recently. The corpse came by express and a swell negro funeral followed the same day. The weight of the coffin surprised many onlookers, requiring the strength of a dozen stalwart negroes to carry it. Suspicion was aroused and late that night an investigation was made by curious white citizens. The coffin was filled with rifles.

WHITES ON TRIAL AT SALISBURY

Charged with Murder of Russell Sherill in Rowan County.

Charlotte, N. C., September 12.—The taking of testimony in the case of Thomas and Charlie White, charged with the murder of Russell Sherrill, was completed in the superior court at Salisbury today and argument begun.

The case, owing to the prominence of the parties concerned, and the somewhat unusual circumstances involved, has attracted considerable attention. The testimony developed was to the effect that hearing that young Sherill was responsible for the ruin of their niece, whose father was dead, the White brothers, who lived at Concord, went to Sherill's house, in Rowan county, shortly after daybreak, and called him out on the front piazza. His mother was present, but went inside, when they said they wanted to see her son privately.

A short time afterward Sherill was shot twice, each of the Whites discharging his pistol.

Sherill was unarmed. The state contends that Sherill denied the charge and declined to keep an alleged promise to marry the Whites' niece, and as a result the men put him to death.

The defense is that Sherill became enraged and was advancing upon one of the brothers in a threatening attitude, when both opened fire, one in self defense and the other to save his brother.

A number of leading lawyers are engaged on both sides, among them United States Senator Overman and Congressman Klutz for the defense, and Captain R. B. Glenn, democratic candidate for governor, who is of counsel for the prosecution.

The case will likely go to the jury tomorrow.

PEACHTREE SOON TO BE REPAIRED

Street Car Company To Be Called on To Push Work.

Commissioner Collier Says Company Is Prepared to Do the Work. If Work Is Not Begun Saturday Will Take Up Matter With Co.

If the work of repairing the asphalt pavement on Peachtree street is not begun within the next few days, Commissioner of Public Works H. L. Collier says he will take the matter up with the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, in accordance with his former notice, and require that there shall be no further delay.

Several weeks ago Commissioner Collier served notice on the company that the Peachtree paving must be repaired between the company's tracks and as far outside as it is responsible for. At the request of the company, this requirement was held up pending the report of the special committee, which went to the north and east with a view to investigating the subject of street paving, and until that report would have been acted on by council. This report was made to council at the last meeting of that body Wednesday of last week.

The street railway company has a contract with the asphalt company which paved Peachtree street in which there is a guarantee on that part of the work from Ellis to Pine street. So far as this part of the work is concerned the street railway company has only to give notice to the paving company that it wants these repairs made.

The situation with regard to the paving beyond Pine street is different, as there the company must make the repairs at its own expense.

As the report of the special committee has been made to council and received, and the time has arrived when the notice given by Commissioner Collier should become effective, Commissioner Collier was asked yesterday what would be done about the matter.

"I understand that the Georgia Railway and Electric Company is preparing to go ahead with the necessary repairs," he said. "If it does not do so by Friday or Saturday, I shall again take the matter up with the company with a view to seeing that there is no further delay about the work. The notice which I gave the company was suspended, so to speak, until the report of the special committee was made to council. Now that this has been done, there is no reason for any further delay.

"All the company will have to do regarding the pavement from Ellis to Pine street will be to call on the paving company to make good its guarantee.

"With regard to the paving from Pine street out, the street railway company will not, I understand, repair the asphalt. It has the option of laying creosoted blocks, asphalt blocks, vitrified brick or sheet asphalt. It is the intention of the company to put down there the same sort of pavement which the city expects to put down there in the future, and I think it will put in new pavement of creosoted blocks. These blocks or vitrified brick were recommended for the principal residence streets by the committee."

President Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, is out of the city, and it could not be learned yesterday what action the company has decided upon in the matter. It is presumed, however, from what Commissioner Collier says, that the work will soon be begun and that the repairs will be made with the least practicable delay.

This announcement will be received with pleasure by the residents of Peachtree and others who have occasion to use the street. The asphalt is in a terrible condition and has been so for several months. There has been a great deal of delay in the matter and Commissioner Collier, who has the power, has decided that he will force the car company to repair the asphalt.

What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. OFFERS TO LEND VIADUCT MONEY

F. M. Coker Would Let City Have Money to Build It.

Councilman Amorous Is Back, But Nothing Further Has Been Heard From President Smith—Injunction Suits Still Holds.

F. M. Coker, the banker, it is understood, has tentatively offered to lend the city the money necessary to build the Washington street viaduct at 5 per cent should the city decide that it was desirable to go ahead with the structure without further delay.

This proposition has not been made to the city council, but certain city officials have been informed of the fact that the necessary money might be forthcoming from this source should the city see its way clear to proceeding with the structure at once.

City officials who were sponken to on the subject do not think council would consent to negotiate such a loan because of the fact that considerable indebtedness of this kind is now being carried and will be carried over into next year.

Councilman Martin F. Amorous, of the sixth ward, returned to the city yesterday from St. Louis. Councilman Amorous is chairman of the special committee which had to deal with the Louisville and Nashville terminal situation. In his letter to President Smith he told him he would be out of the city for some time and that any further correspondence should be carried on with the mayor. In the meantime nothing further has been heard from Mr. Smith.

The deal with the Louisville and Nashville, as is well known, is still being held up by the injunction suit brought by St. Philip church against the closing of Waverly place. The church is willing to withdraw its suit, provided the Washington street viaduct is built at once.

Should the deal with the Louisville and Nashville go through the city would have only $50,000 to be used on the viaduct, which would cost from $175,000 to $200,000. It seems there is no way of getting the balance of the money at the present time unless a loan were made in the way suggested. While it is understood that the offer, if made to council, would be practically without security, it is said Mr. Coker is willing to take his chances.

Nevertheless the members of council appear to be averse to negotiating any such loan as this, and it is not likely that the present council will take up the matter of the viaduct further than in a preliminary way. It may be, however, that council next year can see its way clear to making arrangements for the construction of the viaduct.

W. T. NEWMAN, JR. IS PRESIDENT

Election as Head of League Occurred Last Night.

William T. Newman, Jr., was overwhelmingly elected president of the Young Men's Democratic League at a rather stormy meeting of that organization held in the council chamber last night. The other officers elected were Hiram L. Gardner, first vice president; T. W. Rucker, Jr., second vice president; Frank R. Mitchell, secretary, and C. C. Thorne, treasurer.

Resolutions indorsing the nomination of Parker and Davis were offered by R. R. Shropshire and unanimously adopted. On motion, it was voted to have these resolutions, which were offered verbally, written out and mailed to the two candidates.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Madison Bell, the retiring president. When nominations for president were called for, Reuben R. Arnold nominated Mr. Newman, and James W. Austin nominated E. D. Thomas. The name of the latter was withdrawn later, however, and the election of Mr. Newman thus made unanimous.

Secretary Mitchell, who has held that office for about ten years, was nominated by Harvey Johnson, who paid him a glowing tribute in making the nomination.

THEATERS.

Not since the hero of the Rollo books has there been such a good little boy as is Robin Hadley, who goes through four acts of "Alone in the World," the present attraction at the Bijou. Robin loves nothing better than to stay up at night studying or interrupt himself long enough to go out and save some poor young girl's life or reputation. This keeps him busy during the entire performance and brings in enough dramatic climaxes to enthuse the audience into one constant ovation. There are some right clever lines and situations, and altogether the melodrama is one that compells admiration for the inventive genius that permits of no suspension of interest. But really Robin is almost too good for a boy. The cast is a large one that pleased the crowded house.

ALAN ROGERC.

The charming romantic play, "The Watch on the Rhine," written by Sidney R. Ellis, with Al H. Wilson as the star, will be the attraction at the Grand tonight and Wednesday matinee and night. Mr. Wilson is a born actor of undeniable ability. He is favored with a fine stage presence, a magnetic manner and an intelligent and expressive face that can at one moment depict touching pathos and at the next convulse his auditors with heartiest laughter.

Mason & Mason come to the city on Thursday night in "Fritz and Snitz." Those two Dutch comedians are said to have congenial roles and to give up-to-date parsiflage in their broken German dialect so funnily and so incessantly that their audience will be convulsed with laughter.

Al G. Fields' Greater Minstrels will be the attraction Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, at the Grand.

Mr. Dabney Scoville Weds Miss Benjamin

The marriage of Mr. Dabney Scoville, of Atlanta, and Miss Lamine Benjamin, of Montgomery, Ala., took place yesterday morning in Asheville, N. C., where the Benjamin family are spending the summer.

The announcement of their marriage will be somewhat of a surprise to their many friends throughout the state, as no formal announcement of their betrothal had been made.

Mr. Scoville met his bride for the first time about a month ago at Indian Spring, and it was there shortly afterwards that the families of both parties were apprised of their betrothal.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Monte Benjamin, a prominent citizen of Montgomery, and Mr. Scoville is the proprietor of the Marion hotel, and one of the best known and most popular hotel men in the south. He is a brother of Messrs. Levi and George Scoville.

Musical Evening.

An evening of music which proved very delightful was enjoyed by a congenial gathering of their friends last night in the apartments of Messrs. Y. B. and T. M. Jones and Mr. William Bennett, at the Farlinger. They entertained for Miss Rose White Steinhagen and Mr. Clarence Blosser, whose marriage takes place Thursday night, and in this entertainment they were assisted by a number of local artists among their acquaintances.

While the occasion was thoroughly informal, it was none the less successful from the musical standpoint, and the spirit of the evening was at the same time one of graceful hospitality.

Among those who contributed to the informal programme were Mrs. Lillian Clark Todd, Mrs. F. A. Wynne, Miss Gertrude Westmoreland, Miss Marguerite Dunlap, Miss Steinhagen, Mr. John Mullin, Mr. Clarence Blosser, Dr. J. Lewis Browne and Mr. T. M. Jones.

WOODS WHITE NOT ON LIST.

Reason Appears to Be That He Has Not Given in Property for Taxation.

Publications to the effect that Woods White's name had been left off the grand jury list brought forth a statement yesterday from Arnold Broyles, clerk of the superior court.

Mr. Broyles said:

"The absence of Woods White's name from the jury list of Fulton county is due to his failure to give in his state and county taxes."

The law provides that the jury list must be selected from the tax digest.

Mr. White could not remember whether he had given in his taxes. He said: "I regard the matter as of little importance."

The annoyance of having dessert that is "just a little off" in flavor is obviated by always using Burnett's Vanilla Extract. Try it.

SUB-COMMITTEE ACTS THURSDAY

Will Name Managers and Clerks for Coming City Primary.

The city subcommittee, M. M. Welch, chairman, will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the office of Chairman H. M. Dorsey, of the city executive committee, in the Kiser building, for the purpose of making final arrangements, in so far as is possible, for the city primary on October 5.

The subcommittee will name the managers and clerks for the primary, and, as far as it is possible to do so, will select the polling places. Owing to the fact that the Australian ballot system will be used, the polling places will have to be separate and distinct from those used in the state election on the same day. At the same time it is desirable to have the polling places for both elections as close together in each ward as it is possible to get them.

Another feature of the meeting will be the report on the resolution regarding the situation in the eighth ward. This resolution, which was referred to a special committee, provides that the candidate receiving the highest number of votes, shall be the nominee for council for the long term, and the candidate receiving the next highest number shall be the nominee for the short term.

It may be argued that since Mr. Thomas and Mr. Patterson, the two candidates in the eighth ward, have reached an agreement along this line, consenting to make the race on that basis, there is no reason why the resolution should not pass.

At the same time there is a strong sentiment against the resolution on the part of certain members of the subcommittee.

"In my opinion," said one of them yesterday, "no man can be elected to an office he does not run for. You might just as well say that the man receiving the highest vote should be alderman, the next councilman for the long term, and so on. Or it would be just as proper and legal to carry it further and say the candidate with the most votes should be the nominee for mayor, while the man next in line should be an alderman. I don't believe any such proposition is legal. In my opinion, if anyone should come out for the short term from the eighth ward, irrespective of the present candidates, he could be elected, while the candidate for the long term who received the shortest number of votes, would be out of it entirely."

Two more candidates paid their assessments to Treasurer W. J. Campbell yesterday. They were E. C. Peters, candidae for alderman from the eighth, and H. F. Garrett, candidate for alderman from the fourth. Each paid $50.

FIRED INTO MOVING TRAIN.

Third Time Train Has Been Attacked Near Lake Park.

Valdosta, Ga., September 12.—(Special.) Unknown parties fired into the northbound passenger train on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad last night, a few miles below Lake Park, in this county. The ball struck a window, shattering the glass and blind, and scattering the pieces over T. G. Cranford and Homer Brown, of this city, who were sitting near the window. This makes the second or third time the trains have been fired into near that point, and it is understood that the officials are making every endeavor to arrest the perpetrators.

BUILDING FOOD

To Bring the Babies Around.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as the selection of food which will always bring it around again.

"My little baby boy fifteen months old had pneumonia, then came brain fever, and no sooner had he got over these than he began to cut teeth and, being so weak, he was frequently thrown into convulsions," says a Colorado mother.

"I decided a change might help, so took him to Kansas City for a visit. When we got there he was so very weak when he would cry he would sink away and seemed like he would die.

"When I reached my sister's home she said immediately that we must feed him Grape-Nuts and, although I had never used the food, we got some and for a few days gave him just the juice of Grape-Nuts and milk. He got stronger so quickly we were soon feeding him the Grape-Nuts itself and in a wonderfully short time he fattened right up and became strong and well.

"That showed me something worth knowing and, when later on my girl came, I raised her on Grape-Nuts and she is a strong and healthy baby and has been. You will see from the little photograph I send you what a strong, chubby youngster the boy is now, but he didn't look anything like that before we found this nourishing food. Grape-Nuts nourished him back to strength when he was so weak he couldn't keep any other food on his stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

All children can be built to a more sturdy and healthy condition upon Grape-Nuts and cream. The food contains the elements nature demands, from which to make the soft gray filling in the nerve centers and brain. A well fed brain and strong, sturdy nerves absolutely insure a healthy body.

JOYNER IS IN CHATTANOOGA.

Mayor and Board of Firemasters Went as Honorary Escort to the Chief.

Chief W. R. Joyner, of the fire department, left the city yesterday for Chattanooga where he will preside today over the convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs.

An honorary escort left the city yestoday to be with him. This escort was composed of Mayor Howell and the board of fire masters, M. M. Turner, chairman; J. H. Harwell, J. M. Stephens, J. Sid Holland and G. H. Sims.

The firemen's drum and bugle corps will leave for Chattanooga this morning at 5:30 o'clock and will spend the day there, returning tonight. An interesting feature of the trip of the drum corps is the fact that Chief Joyner does not know of the visit that will be made to Chattanooga today. This surprise to the chief was arranged by Mayor Howell, Alderman Inman, chairman of council's finance committee, and Councilman M. M. Turner, chairman of the board of fire masters.

J. W. MITCHELL WITHDRAWS.

Will Not Make Race for Council From First Ward—Retires in Favor of His Opponent, R. E. Campbell.

Dr. J. W. Mitchell, the well known first ward physician, announces to his friends that he has determined to withdraw from the councilmanic race in the first ward. This step is taken on account of the ill health of the doctor's wife and of lack of time from his professional duties to give to the race. The withdrawal of Dr. Mitchell simplifies the race in this ward. There is no stronger man in that section of the city. In the last councilmanic race he was defeated by Councilman Terrell by only 74 votes. If he had remained in the present race he would have made a formidable contest. He withdraws from the race absolutely and does so in favor of his popular opponent, Mr. R. E. Campbell.

To his friends, the doctor made the following statement: "On account of my wife's continued poor health, and of my lack of time to make a proper canvass, I have decided to withdraw from the councilmanic race in the first ward in favor of my able opponent, Mr. R. E. Campbell. In withdrawing in his favor I believe I am leaving the interests of my home ward and of the city in safe hands. Mr. Campbell has lived in the first ward seventeen years. He knows the needs of that ward and is a representative Atlantan, who will look after the interests both of his ward and the whole city. I cordially commend him to my friends.

"J. W. MITCHELL."

Rumor Proved Unfounded.

Valdosta, Ga., September 11.—Special.) Rumors of the existence of a "Before Day Club" in this county have caused considerable excitement in some quarters. A few of the better class of negroes—leaders of the race in this section—have made investigation of the reports and publish cards in The Valdosta Times deprecating the rumors and declaring that to the best of their knowledge there is no truth in the alleged existence of an offensive or lawless club among the negroes of the county.

In one of the greatest uphill games of the year the Cracker forces, aided and captained by Demont, wrested victory from Memphis and tied a game which should have gone to the second placers.

The captain and manager of the Crackers have extended toward each other the glad mit, and for once the atmosphere surrounding Piedmont park is cleared up. Everybody is happy out there, and, perhaps, this was the reason for the sudden accession of strength to the batting of the Crackers, who sent Goodwin to the woods, smashed McIntyre a few jolts, finally retiring him from the game with an injured toe, and had just started after Herr when the game was called: Score, Atlanta 7, Memphis 7.

The feature of the game by long odds was the enthusiastic reception given to DeMontreville and the great work of the captain at the bat and in the field. The first time Demont came to the bat it seemed as if the entire 1,200 fans present were yelling for the captain to show their appreciation of the fine work he has done for the team and their gladness at seeing him back in the game once more. Every time he came up he received an encore.

And the captain was there with the goods at the right moment. Three times out of four times up he sent out hits, two of them being screamers on the order of Whitey Morse's in his palmiest days. Sharp, snappy line drives over short was the kind of work seen by the fans yesterday when Demont was at work.

Thirteen safe drives was the total for the Crackers. Demont drew three, McCay two, Koehler three and Winters two.

Stafford has written to Powell saying he will report soon.

There will be a double-header played today, the first game starting at 2 o'clock. For the Crackers, Smith and Bayne will do the box work, while Herr and Stockdale will probably do the honors for the Memphii.

How to Judge Beer

SOLID, CREAMY FOAM

An infallible indication of body, age and excellence of brewing material.

A solid, creamy foam is the invariable indication of body, age and excellence of brewing material in beer. Unless the best grades of barley and hops, selected with extreme care, are used in sufficient quantity, brewed so as to give the beer the proper strength and body, and afterward the beer is thoroughly ripened and aged, it cannot show the solid, creamy foam always found in the famous

WORSHAM WILL COACH TEAM.

Former University of Georgia Player Engaged to Coach the Gordon Institute Team.

Determined to begin the season on equal terms with all the other prep teams of the state, Gordon institute has made arrangements by which their football team will be coached by W. A. Worsham, formerly a player on the University of Georgia team.

Worsham was one of the linesmen on Georgia in 1903, and his work for Georgia was always good. He knows the game from start to finish, and will give to his team the very best of training.

A number of last year's players on the Gordon institute team have returned. Among them are Curry, Worsham, Lambdin, Hodges, Prout, Williams and Grace. There is much good material in college among the new men, those in charge believing that Howard, Fitzpatrick, Phillips and Houston will make good. Manager Fitzpatrick will in a few days announce his schedule.

Now the prep teams are fairly well provided with coaches, as nearly every team in the city and in the state has secured some well known coach from Georgia colleges. Jack Bower, of Georgia, will coach the Georgia Military academy; Sandy Beaver, of Georgia, has charge out at Donald Fraser; Sadler, of Clemson, has control at Stone Mountain; Barks, of Auburn, will coach the Boys' High school, and Worsham, of Georgia, at Barnesville.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first rate blood purifier, tonic and cure for Malaria.

WEATHER IDEAL FOR PICKING COTTON

Deterioration Is Reported in Condition from Many Sections.

BULLISH BUREAU EXPECTED

Receipts at the Ports Are Full With Exports Liberal—September Closed 13 Points Off, Later Months 1 to 2 Points Higher.

New York, September 12.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 3 points on September, while other positions were unchanged to 2 points higher. This was rather better than due on the cables and excellent weather reports. It was pointed out that prices were about a cent down from the top and with private crop advices of a generally favorable nature, room operators, though they saw a chance for a turn on the long side, figuring that the weekly crop report would be bullish factor. Reflecting this line of argument, prices immediately following the call shot up about 7 to 13 points above the closing of Saturday, but the big Houston estimate checked the advance and later the market broke to nearly 10 cents for the active months upon receipt of the estimates for Galveston and New Orleans, which also showed a full movement. It was reported two or three times during the day that lower Wall street bears were covering whenever outside offerings increased, and there were frequent reactionary periods, which, however, were of short duration. Toward the close the market worked up a few points from the bottom and was finally steady at a net decline of 13 points to an advance of two points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales. The frost in the northwest had some influence during the day as tending to make nervous shorts apprehensive of a cold wave sweeping down into the belt, and toward the close talk of a bullish weekly report tomorrow was revived. The room trade sized up the day's operations as mostly professional, and it was believed that the bear leader, while selling actively on any show of firmness, covered on call on all weak spots. There was some selling during the day by spot houses believed to be hedging purchases of spot cotton. Receipts at the ports were full, but exports are running liberal and so far for the month are about 125,601 bales, against 18,688 last year.

Clearances equalled 34,300 bushels. The visible supply decreased 1,051,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,198,800 bushels, against 1,131,800 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported 628 cars, against 1,039 a year ago.

Liberal receipts and a bearish government report had a depressing influence on corn. Strength of wheat, however, held the market in check, causing a moderate advance. Some of the big holders were free sellers early. The market closed firm. December opened ¼@⅜c higher at 51½@51⅝c, sold between 51@51⅝c and closed at 51⅝c. Receipts 1,118 cars, 60 contract.

As a result of moderate selling by several bull leaders, sentiment in oats was somewhat easier early. The strength of wheat, however, had a similar effect as on corn, all the loss being recovered. December opened ⅛@¼c to ⅜c higher at 32½@32⅝c, sold between 32¼@32⅝c higher and closed at 32½c. Receipts 224 cars.

Provisions were firm at the start under the influences of higher hogs, but the market soon weakened on selling by local longs. The close was steady. January pork up 7½c at $12 40. lard and ribs unchanged at $7.12½ and $6.55.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat 316 cars; corn 798 cars; oats 279 cars; hogs 18,000 head.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, September 12.—In the spot cotton market the offerings were free, but the demand was light. Sales 3,200 bales, including 1,950 to arrive. Quotations revised, middling being reduced 1-16c and the higher grades 3-16c.

Futures opened steady with prices 2 to 3 points lower. Soon after the opening prices advanced 10 to 12 points, but fresh selling by shorts sent them off 7 to 9 points. The weather map was good, but the country continued to send in complaints of deterioration. According to these reports deterioration is widespread and will result in an Octber bureau report almost as low as that of last year. In the trading October opened unchanged at 9.91, sold up to 10.01, declined to 9.87 and finally sold up to 9.94. December opened 2 points up at 9.95, advanced to 10.07, declined to 9.88 and finally advanced to 9.99. The market closed steady. September was net 3 points lower, while the other positions gained 1 to 3 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, September 12.—In dry goods the market conditions are generally firm and prices are strengthened on the majority of staples of lines. The gingham situation is further involved by the announcement of further cuts on the part of jobbers, who are now fighting to see who can make the lowest quotations. Jobbers continue fairly busy. The American Woolen Company has advanced all lines 5 per cent.

Southern Exchange.

COTTON—With a very moderate general demand, the market has shown considerable activity in its movements if not on its trading. Prices have been moved about by the speculative interests with comparative ease, in view of the limited business to steady them. Port receipts are very large and the tendency is to pay greater heed to their influence. A reaction after the opening sent prices some 10 points above the close, a sharp decline followed by a rally, showing the nervousness of the market and the lack of steadying influences. Slowly the education proceeds that even present prices are a safe sale, at any rate until the weight of the early movement becomes less potent and the outlook of the crop and trade prospects more clear. Foreign spinners are taking only their immediate requirements.

The Howell Jones Co.

COTTON—There was a steady opening in cotton today with first prices at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points. This was somewhat better than looked for, in view of the relatively easy cables, good weather throughout the south and increasing movement. However, there was some nervousness among the shorts, the latter fearing that the low temperatures in the northwest might move down to the cotton country. It was also feared that the weekly bureau tomorrow would be bullish, and in view of the recent reaction of nearly a cent a pound there was quite a good line of buying. However, the big estimate for Houston tomorrow proved a bear card, the estimate called for 20,000 to 21,000 bales, against 7,609 last year, and this stimulated selling in the southern markets, with the result that a good many selling orders came from New Orleans. The trade was quite professional. Spot cotton markets were dull and steady, with a small demand. Port receipts were 26,982, against 18,554 last week and 15,781 last year. For the week, the ports were estimated at 175,000, against 131,643 last week and 110,483 last year.

WHEAT was strong on active buying for shorts. Conditions generally were bullish. The government figures came 520,000,000 bushels, and the shortage as represented was greater than expected. The indications pointed to continued active markets.

CORN was firmer on low temperatures in the west. The buying was good and the trade was quite active up to the last.

OATS were fairly active. The best demand came from the shorts.

PROIVSIONS—There was a better market for provisions in the early market, but on the better levels there was some realizing.

L. J. Anderson & Co.

COTTON—Weather prevailing does not injure the cotton crop. It could not be better for picking purposes, and farmers are taking advantage of the ideal weather. Receipts prove this fact. New York opened 3 points lower to 2 points higher, despite the easy cables; good weather and the increase in the movement. Later there was an advance, due to a cold wave in the northwest, and a fear that the weekly report tomorrow would be bullishly, the betterment carrying prices 7 to 13 points above Saturday's final figures. At this point New Orleans turned seller on the very heavy estimated receipts at Houston tomorrow—20,000 to 21,000 bales, and prices sagged to about opening figures. In the late trading a quiet tone ruled, with professionals doing the bulk of the business. At the close September was 13 points lower, the remainders of the list being 1 to 2 points higher. Port receipts today 26,892 bales, against 12,791 last year.

WHEAT—The decidedly bullish government report on wheat had its effect today, and on a heavy trade all deliveries closed materially higher. Frosts were reported in various sections of the northwest, aiding the advance. Shorts were urgent bidders. Foreign markets were also higher, and as the session advanced buying orders from the country were numerous. December's opening range was 1-4 to 1-2c higher at $1.09 3-4 to $1.10 1-2 and was afterwards advanced to 1.12 7-8, the close being very strong, only a fraction below the high point at $1.12 5-8. Primary receipts 1,198,800 bushels, against 1,131,600 last year. Clearances 34,300 bushels wheat and flour. The visible showed a decrease of 1,051,000 bushels.

CORN—The market was firm on strength of wheat and lower temperatures in the belt. Buying was of good character. December opened 1-8 to 3-8c higher at 32 1-2 to 32 5-8c. Despite liberal profit taking the firmness continued up to the close, which was 5-8c higher for December at 51 1-8c.

OATS—On a demand from shorts and in sympathy with wheat and corn, December closed 1-8 to 1-4c higher at 32 1-2c.

PROVISIONS—The strength of grain and higher hogs started provisions strong and higher, but on realizing sales the advance was lost, the market being unchanged at the close.

Cothran & Co.

COTTON—This wonderful picking weather in the south and the increasing movement of new cotton appear to be too much for the market. Traders were buying to cover shorts on the break this morning, but this was about all. At times there seemed to be no demand and a lot of cotton for sale. This carried October down to about 10c, and even then there was nothing like the buying necessary to hold the market. Houston will get 20,000 bales tomorrow, and if this keeps on the most urgent demand will soon be filled. With the edge off the demand and dry goods business here in rather poor shape, it is hard to see where the demand will come from to carry on a speculative advance. On the other hand, prices around 10c here mean 9¼c in the south, and it will be some weeks before prices get low enough in the cotton belt to attract cotton here. With the stock of 20,000 bales in New York, it is going to be risky to sell cotton on a break like this. October could be boosted readily. Until after frost danger, we look for a steady market, and on a break from here would rather risk the long side.

WHEAT—The advance in Liverpool, due to the bullish government, was reflected on the Minneapolis curb, and followed by a stiff advance at the start. The weather conditions in the northwest also being unfavorable was a bullish factor. Shorts covered well as they could, while many outside buying orders were sent in, with the old bull crowd taking on the futures. There was influential selling of May by the Armour people, but all offerings were splendidly taken, outside markets developing great strength, and there was a greater rush of buying orders than has been witnessed since the big upturn last month. There was certainly a large amount of buying by the big men on which they stood pat, being influenced to some extent by the damage reports, as well as the strong cash markets. Further advances seem likely, but we doubt if they can hold, and we would certainly favor accepting profits on long wheat.

STOCKS—The stock market, subjected to further heavy realizing today on a certain volume day, yielded as anticipated, and the general list suffered a reaction of moderate extent. It is very hard to forecast on an afternoon what the next morning's market will do, for the reason that new developments may arise changing the aspect, but it looks to us that on weak spots tomorrow the active list ought to be a purchase for a turn, while we shall have a trading market for a time, in which profits will be made on both sides. We recommend the trading position for quick turns.

WHEAT WAS STRONG FROM THE START

Claimed Crop Will Be Barely Sufficient To Satisfy Home Consumption.

BUSINESS WAS VERY HEAVY

With No Let Up in the Buying Prices Were Forced Up 4c Above Saturday's Close for All Options—Closed near the Highest.

Chicago, October 12.—Official confirmation of alarming rust damage reports caused 4c advance in the price of all deliveries of wheat here today. The volume of business was large with an abundance of buying orders from outside speculators. The close was practically at the highest price today. Corn closed 5-8c higher, oats up 1-8@1-4c and provisions unchanged.

From the start wheat was exceedingly strong. The feature of paramount importance was the government crop report, confirming in a great degree the alarming stories of damage by rust. According to the official figures the total yield of wheat is 523,000,000 bushels, an amount claimed to be barely sufficient to satisfy home consumption. The foreign markets were also higher. This helped increase the demand here when trading began. In addition, reports from the northwest indicated that fresh damage by frost had been inflicted upon the spring wheat crop. With such alarming news at hand shorts at the opening made a frantic effort to cover, causing all delieveries to go up about 2c at the start, December showing a gain of 1 1-8@1 1-4c to 1 7-8@2c at $1.09 3-4@1.10 1-2. As the session advanced a host of small buying orders came in from the country, indicating that the public was beginning to realize the damage sustained by the cereal. Throughout the offerings were entirely inadequate to the demand. With no let up in the buying, prices were forced up 4c above Saturday's close for all options. High prices in the cash market held bullish enthusiasm. There was large flour sales in the northwest, adding to the bullish feeling. December touched 1.12 7-8. The sensational strength was maintained up to the last minute of trading, the market closing almost at the highest price with December at 1.12 7-8. May ranged between 7-8@1c to 1 7-8@2c at 1.11 1-2@1.14 7-8 and closed at $1.14 5-8. September sold between $1.07 5-8@1.09 3-4, closing at the high point.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

THE STOCK MARKET WAS REACTIONARY

A Decisive Impression Was Made on Prices.

ON SALES TO TAKE PROFITS

Prompted by Misgivings Over the Crop and Money Outlook—The Cotton Carriers Were Comparatively Well Held. Close Weak.

New York, September 12.—A decisive impression was made on prices of stocks today for the first time in many days, by the increasing burden of sales to take profits prompted by a misgivings over the crop and money outlook. Yet the dominant impression created by the action of the early market was its continued evidence of underlying strength and its great absorptive power. The number of shares which changed hands had run up to three-quarters of a million at noon, and in that time the market had made sturdy rallies against the inroads upon the prices, and had put forth sustaining points of strength in special stocks in the way which has become familiar during the long advance. As the day wore on these sustaining points became fewer and also less effective on the sentiment held toward the market at large. The haste to cover shorts at some concessions and the volume of buying orders slightly below the existing prices kept the early trading today feverish and uncertain and showed the doubts of the bears that the time for reaction had come. The cotton carriers were comparatively well held, and there was furious buying of Southern Railway, which made it a conspicuous feature. Some of the southwesterns also reported good gross earnings for the first week in September. The market closed active and weak with net losses running from 1 to 2 points and upward in some prominent cases.

Bonds weakened in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $5,755,000.

United States 2s registered and 3s coupon declined ⅛ and the 2s coupon per cent on call.

Money on call easy at ⅞@1 per cent, closing bid and offered at ⅞; time loans steady; 60 days 2¾@3; 90 days 3; six months 3½@3¾; prime mercantile paper 3¾@4½ per cent.

Sterling exchange steady at the decline with business in bankers' bills at $4.86.90 for demand and at $4.84.50@4.84.55 for 60 days; posted rates $4.85@4.88½; commercial bills $4.84¼@4.84⅝.

Bar silver 56⅝c.

Mexican dollars 45¼c.

Government bonds quiet.

Railroad bonds weak.

COTTON—There was a little flurry this morning on cables from Liverpool that Price was buying in that market, and while it lasted an advance of 10 to 13 points from Saturday's level was established. This was followed by a smart reaction, which was not checked until 10c was reached for October. At that figure there seemed to be some cotton wanted, and once the downward movement was checked, the efforts of shorts to take profits caused another upturn of about 12 points, which leaves the market 2 points above Saturday's prices, after fluctuating actively within a range of over 20 points during the day. One of the causes of the early strength, independent of Price's covering, was said to be the frost warning issued by the government for the northwestern states. It is hardly likely that such a remote threat could have any influence on cotton. It is more probable that fear of a bullish weather report tomorrow impelled most of the shorts, who thought it wise to take in their profits. It looks as if certain operators are anxious to get the market up again, so as to have a better selling basis, and are using the coming weekly weather report to assist them in their efforts. Morning press dispatches report that mills in Lowell, Mass., have all resumed work, shut downs and short time resulting from vacations to repair having come to an end. About 30,000 operatives are affected. The London Times, in its financial article of this morning, says that the British board of trade returns show that August exports of yarns increased 21 per cent and of cloth 10 per cent over last year's' figures, and that the prospects of Lancashire spinners for a good fall and winter business are the best in several years. Our private advices from the south indicate an awakening of interest on the part of eastern mills and that some little business has been done. If demand from this quarter should become general, it would have a decisive influence on the general market. Southern mills complain that they cannot sell goods on anything like the present basis of fall and winter months, and some adjustment must occur either in the way of higher prices for goods or a decline in raw cotton to bring them into the market for anything more than their immediate wants from week to week.

WHEAT opened very strong on the government report and was met by large realizing sales on the part of the longs. The market absorbed this selling, however, with very little break. This encouraged the bulls and they turned around and replaced their wheat, and after wheat got through calls the sellers of calls turned buyers, aided by those who sold short early in the session. The situation looks very strong, and as if the market pointed to higher prices.

CORN—Corn has had no features of its own, and has been weak excepting as held by wheat. This also applied to oats.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were firm at the opening, but later weakened under selling, and it looks as though it was done for some of the leading packers. There is a fair cash demand for both lard and ribs, but we see nothing to cause higher prices. Packers continue to sell January product, and we believe it a sale on every bulge. The strike is over.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, September 12.—Coffee futures opened steady, 5 points lower, and later increased the loss a partial 5 points under moderate liquidation prompted by French cables and privates advices from Rio stating that the prospects for the next flowering were favorable. Santos advices, however, were unfavorable, and with a decreased movement predicted the market in the afternoon recovered most of the loss, closing steady, net unchanged to 5 points lower; sales 32,000 bags; December 6.70@6.80; January 6.90; March 7@7.05; May 7.20; June 7.25; July 7.35. Coffee, spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice 8 3-8; mild steady.

Sugar, raw and refined steady.

New Orleans, September 12.—Sugar strong; open kettle 3 1-4@3 3-4; open kettle centrifugal 4@4 1-2; centrifugal white 4 7-8; yellows 4 5-8@4 3-4; seconds 2 5-8@3 3-4. Molasses nominal; open kettle 20@25; centrifugal 10@15. Sirup nominal at 20@25c. One barrel of New syrup, the first of the season, received and sold for $1 per gallon.

THE COLLIER PROPERTY

on Peachtree Street, will be offered at Public Auction Sale on next

Wednesday, September 14th, at 3:30 O'clock in the Afternoon.

The first sale held in April demonstrated the fact that there was a great demand for this high class Peachtree property, and in order to further supply this demand, the owners have decided to offer all of the remaining frontage.

This sale will be just like the first: That is to say, every lot will be sold strictly on its merit, without any limit, reservation or by-bidding. In this way you can get a lot at your own price.

A great many of the lots formerly sold will be improved at an early date, in such manner as to enhance the value of every remaining lot, and you may be sure that no other opportunity will be offered in the future to buy this kind of Peachtree property at anything approximating the prices that now prevail.
